PREMIER LEAVES TO ENTER FIGHT

Premier Oliver left this afternoon for Vancouver on his way over the Kettle Valley Railway to Nelson, where he will immediately enter the campaign. The Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, accompanied the Premier to-day. Later in the week other members of the Government who are at present in Victoria will leave to take part in the fight.

Hon. W. H. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works, returned to Victoria to-day from his home at Revelstoke, where he was called last week because of the serious illness of Dr. Hamilton, his partner.

REGISTRAR TO HEAR TWO SIDES OF CASE

That real estate has not been tendered for security in connection with stay of execution proceedings, such as arose to-day in the Hall-North application, it was learned later from the Registrar, Mr. Tyrwhitt-Drake, who stated that bonds or cash were the usual security demanded and accepted by a court.

It is understood that Frank Higgins, K. C., and J. E. Clearhouse will appear before the Registrar together to argue the question of the real estate security tendered, as suggested by Mr. Justice Morrison. It is understood that Mr. Clearhouse offered to deposit the certificate of title with the Registrar, but that this will not be permitted if the other side should object.

SILVER FOX BREEDING IS STARTED HERE

New Industry Launched; Made-up Skins on View

Since the subject of the fox-breeding industry and its possibilities in the West was introduced last year to the Women's Canadian Club by Cecil French, considerable interest has been focused upon this very lucrative industry and its chances of success on Vancouver Island. Mr. French in his address stressed the fact that the silver and black fox could only be reared in climates where extreme cold is experienced and had been exploded and that the rearing of these precious fur-bearing animals in captivity was a matter comparatively easy of accomplishment.

A start has been made on Vancouver Island by the Vancouver Island Fox Farm, who form the pioneers in the establishment of the industry in this district. The proprietors have acquired two pairs of the animals and have commenced operations in Saanich, following out the system of housing and feeding advocated by the successful breeders of Prince Edward Island and other Eastern centres. As they have but recently launched upon the undertaking it is too early to say whether their venture will meet with success, but the outcome will be awaited with much interest as proof or otherwise of the possibilities of breeding the animals in captivity on this Island.

Recent auction sales of skins show that the high prices for these skins are still being maintained owing to the comparative scarcity of the skins and the high demand for them. A particularly beautiful specimen of silver fox is being shown in the windows of Fred Foster, furrier, for the balance of this week. The skin was obtained for a local customer from a breeding establishment in Prince Edward Island and has been made up into a neckpiece and collar. The skin is of magnificent marking and the workmanship used in the making up is commensurate with the value and beauty of the skin. It is well worth a visit of inspection from all who are interested in beautiful furs.

NO MORE MONEY FOR BRIDGE HERE, OLIVER RULES

Government Has Already Given $200,000 to City

Spending $100,000 for Roads to Structure

The British Columbia Government cannot see its way to contribute further to the City of Victoria for the construction of the Johnson Street Bridge, Premier Oliver announced this afternoon.

The Premier had sent a letter to this effect to Mayor Marchant and the members of the City Council who have been asking the Government to increase the grant of $200,000 it has already made for the bridge.

Under the agreement made when the bridge was started the bridge was to cost $720,000. Of this the Government agreed to contribute $200,000, the Canadian Pacific Railway $100,000 and the City the remaining $420,000.

Now City Hall officials who are directing the building of the bridge find that it will cost upwards of $1,000,000 more than they estimated to finish the bridge. The City last week proposed that the Government and the Canadian Pacific Railway should each help out in meeting part of this extra outlay.

Since the City made its application to the Government for this money, citizens have been protesting personally to the Premier against the Government paying out any more money to the City on the scheme, alleging that the construction work is being carried on in an extravagant manner.

Been Generous to City.

"A year ago the Government spent $50,000 in building roads through the Songhees Reserve to connect up with this bridge. If we had not built these roads the City would have had to have done so."

"We have also undertaken and are under contract to grade Johnson Street through the Reserve at a cost of approximately $50,000. And when I say $50,000 I am satisfied that the work will take all of that money. This is all in addition to the aid we have given to the building of the bridge itself."

"I might also point out that we have no authority from the Legislature to grant any additional money to the City for this bridge and we cannot assume that authority."

Many friends gathered at the Thomson Funeral Home Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock to attend the funeral service for the late Donald MacNab. Rev. Mr. Wilson, of the First Presbyterian Church, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Campbell, conducted a very impressive service. The hymn "Jesus Lover of My Soul" was sung, and at the close of the service Mr. Morton sang "The Christian's Good Night." The profusion of beautiful floral offerings completely covered the casket and hearse, showing the esteem with which the late Mr. MacNab was held. Mount Newton Lodge No. 89, A. F. and A. M., attended in a body, taking the service at the graveside, where Bro. F. V. Hobbs reading the Masonic burial service. The following were pallbearers: Brothers Henderson, Ibbotson, Wood, Mercer, Goddard, Hutchison.

Interment was made in Ross Bay Cemetery.

REVISION COURT DODGED ISSUE

Official Body in Vancouver Quickly Dissolved

No Ruling Given on Church Taxation

A Vancouver, March 13.—Without conceding taxation exemption or assessment reductions for churches in principle, the revision court, dissolved at 11:40 o'clock this morning in a whirl of excitement.

P. McDermid, counsel for nineteen congregations seeking exemption, announced at 11:35 that he had secured an injunction preventing the revision court from dissolving, and service of the writ might be expected at any moment. His warning proved a tactical error, for the revision court, dissolving in five minutes, confirmed the 1922 tax rolls and dissolved five minutes after the verbal warning was given.

J. HINKSON SIDDALL TO BE BURIED WEDNESDAY

The funeral of James Hinkson Siddall, B. A., M. A., will take place on Wednesday, March 15, at the home of his son, Edwin P. Siddall, 320 Moss Street, on Saturday, aged seventy-one years. He was a native of Madison, Ind., and a resident of Victoria for over thirty-five years. The late Mr. Siddall is survived by his widow and two sons, Edwin P. and James Hinkson Siddall, Jr., of Los Angeles, and a daughter, Mrs. (Dr.) Shattford, residing in Indianapolis, U. S. A. Mr. Siddall was former Under Sheriff and a well-known Methodist worker. The remains are resting at the Thomson Funeral Home, whence the funeral will take place on Wednesday at 3:30 o'clock. Rev. S. Cook will officiate and the funeral will be under the auspices of Victoria Lodge No. 1, I. O. O. F. Interment will be in Ross Bay Cemetery.

OBITUARY RECORD

The funeral of the late Maude Wallace Reid who died at St. Mary's Hospital, New Westminster, on Saturday, will be held from the B. C. VAST PUBLICITY SCHEME PLANNED FOR PACIFIC COAST

George I. Warren Invited to Attend Seattle Conference

Sound People Regard Victoria As Most Popular Neighbor

Invited as a guest of honor to participate in a discussion on a vast publicity scheme to induce tourists to visit the Pacific Northwest, in which Victoria should derive a great deal of benefit, George I. Warren, Publicity Commissioner for the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, and managing secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, will next Monday attend a luncheon of Tourist and Conventions Bureau of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, it was announced at the luncheon of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce to-day.

"This Chamber is spending $100,000 this year in national advertising to induce tourists by train, automobile or steamer to visit the Pacific Northwest, this year, the latter states. The money will also be used in the development of follow-up publicity plans and properly caring for tourists when they arrive. The response from this national publicity is amazing, and the Seattle Chamber is receiving over 300 inquiries a day from people planning to visit the coast."

"Best-Liked Neighbor."

"We want Victoria and Vancouver Island to share in this great influx of new business, and we are going to see that you get your fair share, for you are our nearest and very much liked neighbor, and have everything to offer to the eastern tourist that he comes to the Pacific Coast to see, and that will add to the completeness and joy of his visit—including a trip to 'Old England.'"

"We are greatly pleased with the energetic, effective and successful work you are doing, and hope you will tell us about your plans for 1922 in your talk to our bureau on March 20, at which we will be glad to cooperate with you to the fullest extent."

"We are opening a completely equipped Chamber of Commerce Information Bureau at 702 Third Avenue, from which we will distribute all of the attractive literature with which you have already supplied us, and as much more as you will send."

The directors were highly pleased with the warm spirit of co-operation voiced by the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, and agreed that everything possible should be done to take advantage of the kind offer of assistance.

FREIGHT CASE ONE FOR GOVERNMENT

Railway Board Through With Effort; Chamber Meets

Any resumption of the Island's case in connection with the two per cent arbitrary on freight rates will have to be through the medium of the Federal Government.

The Board of Railway Commissioners have finally disposed of the matter, it was reported to-day's meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

The directors expressed their keen appreciation of what has been accomplished by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau in connection with the establishment of an automobile ferry between Sidney and Anacortes.

A communication from the Esquimalt Board of Trade was read regarding the removal of the Post Office Inspector's Department to Vancouver.

Another communication was read in which the unemployed strongly objected to the Province's immigration policy, in view of the present serious state of unemployment.

The directors approved of the Toronto Board of Trade's application for support in seeking the establishment of a National Research Institute.

The Consolidated Whaling Co., Ltd., asked the Chamber to approve of Mr. Dickson, manager of the P. Burns & Co., Ltd., inspecting a shipment of 200 cases of whalemeat consigned to Matsui & Co., Seattle. This was done.

DENTISTRY SERVICE EXPLAINED TO GYRO MEMBERS

Dr. Harry S. Thomson Commences Series of Addresses Here

"Within your life-time and mine we are going to find that every child is given the right, not charity, to health as well as education. If a blight is found on the wheat on the prairie a corps of experts is dispatched from Ottawa to investigate it, but if anything happens to our children what happens? Nothing. If a mother has two girls with tuberculosis she is told to get a doctor. But what if she can't afford a doctor? Somebody has got to take care of them. Dentistry is doing its part. The state must step in."

This statement was made before the Gyro Club luncheon at the Hudson's Bay Co. store to-day by Dr. Harry S. Thomson, who is engaged in dental research at the University of Toronto, during the course of a very interesting address of "Dental Education of the Public in Way of Oral Health."

Had Seen a Vision.

Dr. Thomson explained that he was now on a lecturing tour to arouse interest in the very important matter of dental education. He said, he had seen a vision. Service for service sake alone got nowhere, but service plus vision was a great power. Dentistry, he explained, was young, it being only 87 years ago since it branched out as a separate profession from medicine. He traced its growth from then until its present-day development.

Oral cavities caused much trouble, but he thought that the people of public opinion had swung too far and that the cry for extraction of teeth was too great. "The public," the dentist and doctor had gotten into a groove and his mission was to get them out. He admitted that the teeth of being sixty-four sources of infection from them. We must teach the people that their teeth can be kept white and they can be saved."

Natural Versus False Teeth.

To illustrate the loss of natural service through extraction Dr. Thomson said that with all the natural teeth the biting pressure was from 160 to 240 pounds, while with false teeth it was reduced to forty pounds.

Statistics revealed that 96 per cent of the school children in the country had diseased conditions of the teeth and that 43 per cent had abscess areas.

In order to correct these conditions he explained that it was necessary to let the mother and father know what was necessary for their children.

Dr. Thomson made it plain that dentists were not taking the steps to correct and prevent the oral diseases through any selfish motive of the profession when it started to stamp out tuberculosis, diphtheria and other diseases, but it had since been proven that they had caught a vision.

Dr. Thomson was given a great round of applause on the completion of his address. Dr. Wm. Russell, President of the Victoria Dentist Society, was in attendance.

Merrill Blyth was the three-minute speaker of the day explaining the working of opticians.

The club went on record to-day as endorsing the Health Week, which the Medical Profession is to inaugurate shortly.

L. U. Conyers delighted the club with several splendid vocal numbers and the Gyro orchestra was also on deck.

NUMBER OF ACCUSED SHRINK ON REMAND

Reminiscent of the fable "Nine Little Nigger Boys," thirty-two Chinese, charged on remand in the city police court to-day with being inmates of a common gaming house known as the Oriental Club, Fan Tan Alley, suffered a further shrinkage. The accused at first mustered thirty-three, but one was acquitted, leaving thirty-two. To-day it was reported that Low Kai had influenza and was unavoidably detained, the period of his detention being estimated by the court at about one week, a remand for that length being granted. W. C. Moresby appeared for the accused.

A charge of driving without the requisite license was withdrawn as against W. J. Rennie, it being stated that Mr. Rennie had transferred his car to another owner prior to the alleged offence. Gordon Cameron appeared for the defendant. Leslie Passmore charged with failure to guard a load of gravel on the street by the necessary red lamp at night pleaded not guilty and was remanded. The court will seek the actual "dumper" of the gravel, it was stated.

London, March 13.—Agricultural statistics for 1921, issued by the Minister of Agriculture, show a decline in the cultivated area of England and Wales amounting to 402,000 acres, resulting in a total diminution of the area under plough of 781,000 acres from a total of 12,399,000 acres returned in 1918, when the ploughed area was greatly increased owing to the food production campaign.

CHAMBER RECEIVES FAVORABLE REPLY

Trade and Commerce Department Promises Co-operation

Recommendations of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce with regard to better co-operation between the department of Trade and Commerce and manufacturers of Canada, with a view to enlarging the scope of foreign trade, are receiving favorable consideration at Ottawa, it was reported at the meeting of the directors of the Chamber to-day at the Dominion Hotel.

H. R. Pousette, director of the Commercial Intelligence Service, writes that he will endeavor in future to have due notification sent to local manufacturers of prospective visits of the Canadian Junior Trade commissioners in order that they may call at local plants, and get in touch with local requirements.

With regard to the suggestion that the Department should be represented on the Board of the Canadian Mercantile Marine in order that these two branches should work in closest co-operation, Mr. Pousette says: "I entirely agree with your remarks and will pass them on to the Deputy Minister. Of course it might be considered a considerable departure to appoint a representative of the Trades and Commerce Department on the board of the Canadian Government Mercantile Marine, but it is possible that if the idea were supported by the mercantile bodies of this country it might be carried out."

"I suppose one can say with truth that the Department of Trade and Commerce represents the manufacturers and exporters of this country in the Government and it is only natural to expect that we have their interests at heart perhaps more than other departments."

Notification was sent to the Chamber that the Junior Trade commissioners from Ottawa on Friday of this week and will call at the Chamber's offices, where he will be able to meet any of the local manufacturers or exporters.

Former Takes Place of Late Senator Milne

Latter Takes Place of Late Senator Boyer

Ottawa, March 13.—(Canadian Press Cable)—P. F. Pardee, former Liberal member of Parliament for West Lambton, Ontario, and Gustave Boyer, re-elected on December 6 last as member for Val-d'Or-Soulanges, have been summoned to the Senate.

Senator Pardee fills the vacancy caused by the death of the late Senator Milne, and Senator Boyer that created by the death of the late Senator Arthur Boyer. These two appointments bring the Senate representation to full strength and require the Conservative majority in the Senate by two, the late Senator Milne having been appointed by the Borden Government, while the late Senator Boyer was a Liberal.

1,000 PENALTY ON STEAMSHIP LINE QUASHED

Vancouver, March 13.—The Court of Appeal this morning quashed the judgment of Judge Gies, who recently imposed a penalty of $1,000 on the Dollar Steamship Lines for an alleged breach of the Water Carriage of Goods Act.

The complainant, Davis & Company, a Hongkong firm, alleged that the steamship company had refused to give it a bill of lading with the necessary covenants in as set out in the Act.

The court accepted the view put forward by Joseph Martin, K. C., that Davis & Company, being a foreign corporation, is not a "private party" under the Act, and was not competent therefore to act as a complainant.

SUNDAY FIRE IN ST. BONIFACE

Winnipeg, March 13.—Several buildings were threatened with destruction in the city of St. Boniface early Sunday morning, when fire destroyed the Lamontagne Block, erected a quarter of a century ago, with an estimated loss of $40,000. Five business firms and the occupants of three suites suffered loss. A detachment from the Winnipeg fire brigade aided in subduing the flames.

GERMANY AGAIN EXPORTS POTASH

Building Up Industry Disrupted By War

Berlin, March 12.—Germany's potash industry, disrupted by the war, is rapidly getting on its feet again. Within the last few months, according to announcement, Germany has concluded arrangements for resumption of her potash trade with all European countries, except Poland and also a number of overseas countries, including the United States. The value of the total potash output in Germany in 1921 is estimated at 2,500,000,000 marks.

In a review of the potash business in the Transatlantic Trade Journal published by the American Chamber of Commerce in Germany, it is stated that relations with dealers in the United States recently have been re-established, the American consumers now being considered, as before the war, Germany's largest and most important market for this branch of the trade.

The report says that Germany, in reviving the industry, has felt the competition of Alsace-Lorraine, especially in the American market, and bordering countries, owing to the favorable freight rates.

Of particular interest to the United States is the statement of the Chamber of Commerce that the potash industry established in the United States during the war is not considered in the least as a hindrance to the German export trade of the near future.

The Journal estimates that in 1913 Germany exported about fifty per cent of its entire potash production while the export trade for 1921 averaged about five per cent of the business done in the last peace year.

NOVA SCOTIA RIOTS BRING SENTENCES

Sydney, N.S., March 13.—Twelve men convicted on various charges in connection with the January riots at New Aberdeen were sentenced to Dorchester Penitentiary by Mr. Justice Russell at the conclusion of the criminal term of the Supreme Court here Saturday.

The Court had been sitting for about three weeks, hearing the cases which arose from the looting of a Dominion Coal Company store, from which goods valued at $5,000 were carried off.

The sentences run from two to three years.

LIBERALISM WAS DEFINED BY PREMIER

Mr. King Addressed Ottawa Women's Liberal Club

Ottawa, March 13.—Canadian Press).—"Liberalism is an attitude of heart and mind which inclines its possessor towards a recognition of personality in all matters affecting the individual and a desire for social progress in all human relations," was the definition of Liberalism given 400 members of the Ottawa Women's Liberal Club at their luncheon here Saturday by Premier King. He emphasized that the best kind of government was that which dealt with the things held in common and which was possessed of a spirit of co-operation and broad-mindedness.

The Prime Minister, in opening, expressed his approval and appreciation of the work accomplished by the Liberal women of Ottawa, and declared that the success of the Liberal candidates in this constituency was largely due to their efforts.

TWO MEN FOUGHT IN SYNAGOGUE

Bootlegging Led to Incident in Denver

Denver, Colo., March 13.—The Sabbath service at the Mazovite Synagogue of the Jewish Orthodox Church here ended in a fist fight in front of the altar Saturday.

Just as Jacob Snyder recited the sacred prayer and lighted a sacred candle in honor of his mother, who died a year ago, Sam Greenburg and others in the church rushed up the aisle and began an attack on Snyder.

In which Greenburg struck Snyder several times with the sacred candle, inflicting several cuts on his head and hands, according to complaints made at the district attorney's office. Other members of the congregation are said to have fled from the synagogue in terror.

The fight, according to the district attorney's office, resulted from a factional quarrel said to have existed in the church following charges that certain members of the congregation had engaged in bootlegging.

A warrant for the arrest of Greenburg, charging assault and battery, was issued by the district attorney's office.

TO HOLD MOTOR SHOW THIS MONTH

Vancouver Plans Big Event; Spring Is Auto Show Time

Vancouver, March 13.—With a large attendance expected from Vancouver Island, the biggest motor show in the history of Western Canada will be held at the Arena here March 22-25. It is expected, confidently, the attendance will not fall short of 10,000, while many believe 15,000 would be the nearest estimate indicated. This number will include many visitors from the Prairies and the United States.

The show will give an early start for the tourist season, and most of the visitors will, unquestionably, make a point of spending what time they can spare on Vancouver Island after seeing the auto show here. Hotel reservations are encouraging. The States represented will be a dozen or more.

Every standard car on the market will be displayed. Handsome machines, fresh from the factories, are on their way to be exhibited. Every type will be there. The exhibitors are entering into friendly rivalry for supremacy. Valuable cash prizes and trophies will be awarded. The president of the association is A. A. Ross, prominent auto dealer and motor enthusiast. The manager is H. Frank Bird, editor of The Western Canadian Motorist and secretary of the Good Roads Association.

The Vancouver Motor Dealers' Association is sponsor for the exhibition. Last year, the event was held late in Summer in conjunction with the Vancouver Exhibition, but the Spring finds favor here, as it does throughout the continent where motor shows are now being held in the earlier months.

The accessories and equipment will form a notable display, being quite the most extensive array in this line ever witnessed west of Winnipeg. The decorations will be unusually striking. Bands, bagpipers, decorations and a true festive spirit will animate the show days.

U. S. SOLDIER HAD MANY RELATIVES

Insurance Brought Out Facts When He Died

Washington, March 13.—In investigating the record of Bennie F. Taylor, of Crystal Springs, Miss., a soldier who died at Camp Beauregard in 1918, the United States Veterans' Bureau has found that Taylor, exclusive of cousins, was closely related to four per cent of the total population of his home town of 1,395 residents.

Taylor named as the beneficiary of his Government insurance policy his father, who in turn died, leaving the insurance to next-of-kin. The Veterans' Bureau requested from the family the names of those relatives falling in the "permitted class" and in reply received a list five feet long containing the names and addresses of nine brothers, six sisters, six uncles, six aunts, twenty-three nephews, nineteen nieces, six brothers-in-law, eight sisters-in-law and a stepmother.

The stepmother and fifteen brothers and sisters will each receive monthly instalments of $1.92.

ICE CREAM MADE OF COFFEE GROUNDS BRINGS HEAVY FINE

Berlin, March 13.—The German Hotel Proprietors' Association is agitated over the fact that a Cologne restaurant keeper has been fined 25,000 marks for having used coffee grounds to make "coffee ice cream" and because of the testimony of another restaurateur that the reserving of milk, pastry and other things which customers supposedly have not touched, is a common practice.

The association has issued an angry denial of the statement of the restaurateur, declaring it has worked great injury to the entire restaurant business of Germany.

NEW BISHOP OF SASKATCHEWAN

Saskatoon, March 13.—In a church filled with a vast crowd, the Rev. G. Exton Lloyd, pioneer of the Church of England in Canada, was Sunday morning consecrated Bishop of Saskatchewan. All the glory of the church and the wonderful story of her early ventures in the West were epitomized in the personages assembled in the chancel of St. John's Church.

SPOKE IN SUPPORT OF IRISH TREATY

Collins Had Noisy Meeting in Cork; Griffith in Dundalk

Cork, March 13.—Michael Collins, head of the Irish Free State Provisional Government, addressed a huge meeting here yesterday in defence of the Anglo-Irish Treaty. He was subjected to considerable interference from adherents of Eamon de Valera, who in large groups took up positions near the platforms from which Mr. Collins and others spoke and interrupted the speeches by firing shots seemingly in an endeavor to create excitement. A number of fights occurred during the meeting.

J. J. Walsh and John J. McKeown were among the speakers, all of whom refused to be frightened by what was termed "black and tan" arguments. Collins charged de Valera with a campaign of incitement and declared the tactics being followed were those of a defeated and discredited faction.

There was a demonstration Saturday night by the anti-treaty adherents against the reception to Collins. Thousands of persons congregated in the streets and dismantled the platforms that had been erected and threw them into the river. Anti-treaty literature was liberally distributed throughout the city.

Griffith Spoke. Dundalk, Ireland, March 13.—Addressing a large meeting here yesterday on the Anglo-Irish Treaty, Arthur Griffith, president of the Dail Eireann, declared he had signed the treaty because it secured the last ounce possible to get from England. Those who invited them to fight another round on the chance of getting more were simply gambling with the nation's life.

The treaty made the Irish a nation among European nations and masters in their own house. There was no alternative to the treaty but ruin.

I'm So Tired

Fatigue is the result of poisons in the blood. So when the kidneys fail to purify the blood one of the first indications is unusual and persistent tired feelings and pains in the back.

Neglected kidney troubles lead to years of suffering from rheumatism or develop into such fatal ailments as Bright's disease.

The kidney action is promptly corrected by use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills—the best known regulator of kidneys, liver and bowels.

Mrs. John Ireland, R.R. No. 2, King, Ont., writes:

"I was a great sufferer from severe headaches and bilious spells. I tried a number of remedies without obtaining any benefit until I was advised to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. These completely relieved me and made me feel like a new person. I am very grateful to Dr. Chase's medicines for what they have done for me, and you may use my letter for the benefit of others."

When Cartier Discovered the St. Lawrence in 1535

Nature began to Construct many Canadian Homes

Nature requires from 75 to 300 years to provide timber suitable for building purposes. Man's neglect to provide adequate protection by paint and varnish will destroy her handiwork in less than 25 years. Much of the timber which was beginning its growth when Cartier sailed up the St. Lawrence has already decayed beyond repair in our buildings, fences and furniture because of lack of protection through paint and varnish.

Cartier's discoveries and Nature's patient provision have become your heritage. Canada's timber resources, if carefully husbanded, will provide building material for scores of years to come; if cut down recklessly to replace wood which has decayed through neglect, they will soon disappear.

Paint and varnish are cheaper than timber. Paint can be produced in a few months.

Forests take centuries to mature. Paint is easily obtained; the supply of good timber is already falling short of the demand.

By adequately protecting your property with paint and varnish you are not only saving repair bills and replacement costs for yourself; you are rendering a national service as well.

"Save the surface and you save all"—Paint & Varnish

TO-DAY it costs less to paint than it did. The cost of materials has led in the downward economic trend of manufactured products. But no matter what it costs, the fact remains that it always costs more not to paint than to paint. Rust and rot go on until you check them. The logical time to paint and varnish is NOW.

SEVEN KILLED IN RAILWAY SMASH

Passenger Coach Fell Fifty Feet in Georgia

Atlanta, Ga., March 13.—Seven persons were killed and sixteen injured yesterday when a passenger coach on the Atlanta, Birmingham & Atlantic Railroad was derailed near Union City. The car went off a trestle and fell fifty feet. Six men and one woman were killed and several of the injured are not expected to live.

A bad-tempered woman was being cross-examined. Her husband, obviously the weaker vessel, listened sheepishly. The opposing counsel pressed a certain question rather urgently, and she said angrily, "You needn't try to catch me. You tried that once before."

The barrister said, "Madam, I have not the slightest desire to catch you, and your husband looks as if he were sorry he did."

T. B.

It is not necessary to employ scientific language or medical terms to refer to the report of a special committee of the Victoria Medical Society which appeared in last Saturday's issue of The Times. Nor could any document have been couched in plainer language if it had been intended for circulation among the scholars of the first form in the Public School. It explains in simple form the seriousness of the ravages of tuberculosis in the Province of British Columbia and trains the pitiless light of publicity upon the woeful inadequacy of the agencies of combat. On the other hand there is tangible value in the suggestions which it contains and a promise of hope to sufferers from the malady in all its stages once it shall have been borne in upon the minds of the general public that tuberculosis can be prevented and cured if it will accept its obligation and instruct the state to do its duty.

It is not our intention to deal with all the important phases of the report at this stage; but to content ourselves with a brief reference to the main recommendations that it contained. They in themselves may be comprehended by the least imaginative individual under the sun and should be seriously considered by all those who occupy positions in public life from which they might assist in the direction of a campaign that would result in drastic reforms in the manner in which this awful malady is treated in British Columbia. The underlined salient points in the shape of suggested procedure have been emphasized in these columns on more than one occasion; none the less their official complexion by virtue of their presence in the report referred to endow them with an authority to which we are glad to refer. They are as follows:

1. Compulsory notification of all sufferers from the disease in all forms.
2. A tuberculosis clinic in centres of population equipped with all facilities for diagnosis and treatment, and to include one expert tuberculosis physician and one or more nurses specially trained in this disease.
3. Close co-operation between the clinic and the medical officer of health for the town or district in all matters affecting sanitation, regulations for the inspection of meat and milk.
4. Sanatoria such as Tranquille should be regarded as the mother hospitals for tuberculosis, and should be staffed by experts who would keep a central office, consulting with tuberculosis officers and general practitioners and keeping the dispensaries in touch with its work and with one another.
5. The industrial farm colony an integral part of the sanatorium, providing training, employment and prolonged treatment under the best conditions for the man and his family.
6. The workshop near the centres of population for those who need sheltered employment after sanatorium and colony treatment and whether they are ex-sanatorium patients or not.
7. The hospital for the care and isolation of the advanced cases.

The foregoing formula is simplicity in itself. It should convey immediate understanding to the individual who has not known that a awful hacking cough and that terrifying wasting process just as readily as it will to the man or woman who is still struggling against the uneven odds which the disease automatically imposes and will continue to impose until the State shall recognize that the tuberculous subject has just as much right to become a public charge as the felon who becomes a "guest" of the Government without having to wait his turn on a long waiting list. These things are better understood when it is realized that there are four thousand T. B. cases in this Province at the present time and accommodation for the treatment of only three hundred at the lone institution at Tranquille. Is this a comforting commentary upon our civilization? Do these conditions conform to the incontrovertible fact that every man and every woman has a right to live and contribute his ability towards the upbuilding of the State? The answer is obvious.

Dr. Vrooman—who did such excellent work during his term of office at Tranquille—hit the nail on the head when he said that "the unfortunate and tragic part of our work is that too often when we discover a case that is curable we cannot put it under conditions that offer a fair chance of recovery." There is the rub. This unfortunate individual must needs get his friends with influence to communicate with Tranquille in order to discover his chances of admission and thus get his fighting chance to live. But the result in nine cases out of ten is a tragic reply to the effect that as soon as the accommodation is available he or she will be notified. What is going on all the while? Is any explanation necessary? Tuberculosis is not one of those maladies that can be worn out and forgotten. Ask the man or woman who has heard the verdict of the doctor after the customary examination what it feels like to be told that the trouble is consumption. He and she know. When will the people of this country realize that those unfortunate can be saved for themselves and their families and for the State? That is the question which the report of the Victoria Medical Society should suggest.

WELL IN HAND.

South Africa has experienced a few days of something akin to real "red" revolution with loss of life among the workers and expense to the public at large. Premier Smuts announces that the situation is well in hand while the rahk and file of the extreme elements appear to be determined to persist in their folly. But one of the most hopeful features of the events of the last few days has been the loyalty of the natives and the lack of enthusiasm and participation among workers and trades union members outside the confines of the Rand. As long as the forces of law and order are able to limit the trouble it should die down within a very short period. The Government will not worry about the defection among the extreme Nationalists or about the fact that the outbreak is being financed from abroad. In the case of the former their objection to the British tie will be manifested on every possible occasion and in manner best suited to themselves; but imported doctrines are gradually going out of fashion.

NEW METHODS WANTED.

Although opinions may differ as to how Victoria should grapple with its taxation and general financial problems it is obvious from the various remedies advanced that the existing state of affairs can be rectified if the proper formula shall be applied. Examination of the various avenues towards a solution must comprehend a close inspection of former budgets in order that the difficulties of the immediate present may be placed in their proper perspective. It will have to be admitted, and it is admitted, that the City of Victoria is faced with an aggravating bill of arrears in taxes that it has despaired of ever collecting; but the fact remains that even in the case of reverted property the Council could surely come to some arrangement with those who are responsible for the arrears and enter into an installment plan of payment.

Nothing will be gained by too close an observance of the rigid formula that has done duty ever since the day of incorporation; abnormal conditions demand new and original treatment and the City Council should take an excursion into the City's history in an endeavor to discover what suggestions the pitfalls of the past may inspire. As matters stand at present there is not an alderman who will not agree that the scope of taxation must be broadened if the municipal ledger is to be given a chance to balance. The mesh of the existing taxing net is of a pattern that is all too large to meet prevailing conditions and the Council should see to it that some form of contribution to the municipal exchequer shall be provided in order to prevent the escape of those who do not even pay the two dollar road tax.

Surely the Legislature would look benevolently upon a request for additional authority in this regard even if it shall remain unconvinced about the justice of sharing some of the Provincial revenue with the Municipalities.

No request of this kind can be expected to captivate every member of the House; none the less the Government at least will recognize that if it is to be spared the frequent pilgrimages in search of assistance it must consent to appreciate self help in what is, after all, the only process that will bring tangible results. In the meantime the City Council should be able to make its own arrangements that would be sufficiently attractive to make the easy payment of arrears profitable to itself and advantageous to those whose property has been involved.

FIGURES TALK.

It has been said that until the automobile designer and the inventor of engines get together and agree to turn out a vehicle that will not be capable of exceeding the speed laws of the country there will still be a large number of fatalities attributable to this particular cause. But it can be said with equal truth that when there are no more cars that can travel faster than twenty-five miles an hour that patient and obedient animal known as the horse will once more come into his own. None the less a few figures quoted in a dispatch from New York today really do inspire the inquiry as to whether something will not have to be done to curtail the loss of life by automobile abuses. The statistics in question reveal the fact that during the eighteen months in which United States troops were engaged in the war no fewer than ninety-one thousand people were killed by automobiles as against forty-eight thousand American soldiers killed on the battlefield. The comparison provides material for reflection.

NOTE AND COMMENT

If the "revolution" in South Africa is a specimen of the "goods" the firm of Messrs. Lenin and Trotsky are still able to deliver it ought soon to apply for a voluntary winding-up order.

It is small wonder that a prominent Conservative should take the chair at one of Hon. Dr. King's meetings in the East Kootenay riding. Mr. Brondson will no doubt know why after the votes are counted tomorrow night.

THREE BY-ELECTIONS IN GREAT BRITAIN

covered from unsuccessful parties in actions against the crown.

Irish Nationalists. The Irish Nationalists in the Exchange Division of Liverpool declined a compromise with the Liberals, and are inviting Austen Harford, perhaps the best known resident Nationalist, to contest Leslie Scott's re-election in his new capacity of Solicitor-General. The by-election will be held on March 22.

There is still a doubt as to who will be the candidates in East Leicester. Sir Gordon Hewart's former seat. In the Chertsey electoral division, vacant by the death of Sir Donald Macmaster, Sir Herbert Gough will possibly be the Liberal candidate.

VANCOUVER IS ASKED TO OPPOSE BILL AT OTTAWA

Vancouver, March 13.—A request for co-operation in opposing the Bill of the Vancouver, Fraser Valley and Southern Railway, Ltd., now before the Parliament of Canada and which provides for the company being placed under the Federal Railway Board, was received by the City Council to-day from the Union of Canadian Municipalities.

CRANKED AUTO IN GEAR; IT STARTED AND KILLED HIM

Toronto, March 13.—Louis Shankman, twenty of Toronto, cranked his car last night without first throwing it out of gear, with the result that the car bounded forward and pinned him against a hydrant, causing his death within a few minutes.

WOMAN TAKEN IN MENTAL HOSPITAL CARRYING $520

New Westminster, March 13.—An aged female patient, whose clothes were rotten with age and filth, was admitted to Westminster Mental Hospital on Saturday. When examined by a nurse, her stockings were found to contain $520 in one-dollar and two-dollar bills.

COWICHAN RUGGERS PUT UP FINE GAME Held Wanderers to Scoreless Draw in Their First Game in Several Years

Duncan, March 13.—Cowichan evidently has many football enthusiasts, to judge by the crowd that lined the Recreation Ground Saturday afternoon to see the match between the Wanderers, of Victoria, and the Cowichan Rugby team. The splendid showing of the local team should draw many more spectators to the game, and perhaps induce more to take debentures in the Cowichan Cricket and Sports Club, so that they may own their own grounds for all time.

Although the Cowichan men had only about two practices together, they played remarkably well and succeeded in preventing the Wanderers from scoring, the final result being no score on either side. The ball was often perilously near the Cowichan goal line, when Bell would save the situation by a well placed kick. The Duncan forwards played excellently, and they were short in the first half, Mellin getting hurt in the first few minutes of play and being replaced by J. Roome at half time.

Nearly Scoreless.

The nearest approach to a score was when Goodacre, of Victoria, hit the cross bar from a penalty kick, the ball bounding back into play. The result was even more remarkable considering that this is the first game that has been played in Duncan for many years and those who represented Cowichan are all the more to be congratulated on their showing, holding the Wanderers, as they did, to a scoreless draw.

Hugh Savage made a most efficient referee. The teams were as follows: Wanderers—Full back, H. Goodacre; halves, L. McCulloch and L. Duke; three-quarters, R. L. Furse, A. Walls, McNaught, A. Kerr and L. Wiltshire; forwards, P. Allen, J. B. Ackland, C. Walls, L. H. Herman, J. S. Henderson, B. McIlrae and Colpman.

Duncan—Full back, J. Swanson; halves, H. A. Denny and A. Birsch; three-quarters, A. C. Ebers, J. Powell, P. Forrest and W. Parker; forwards, E. Wilkinson, A. D. Carr, H. Hilton, J. Roome, S. Matthews, R. F. Corfield, E. Bromilow, R. G. Gore-Langton and E. S. Fox.

V. I. DOUBLES SCORE ON ANGELES' FIVE

Saturday evening's basketball game between the Port Angeles High School and V. I. A. A. proved to be one of the fastest and most exciting games played in Victoria this season and was won by the locals by 35-18. The Angeles team which outweighed the V. I. boys looked in the earlier part of the game as if they would register another decisive victory as they were successful in securing eight points in quick succession right at the commencement of the play.

The V. I. A. A. boys, however, had as much of the game as their heavier opponents, but luck was against them, and they could get the ball into the basket. Towards the latter part of the half the locals were given two penalty throws from which Wachter registered their first two points.

Scotty Dowds was then substituted for Wachter, the diminutive V. I. forward, who was being closely checked by a husky Port Angeles guard. Dowd immediately got busy and scored three baskets, which tied the score. The High School team then scored and Dun shot a basket for the V. I. which left the score at half time at 10 points for each team.

At the resumption of play the game was very evenly contested up until about three-quarter time when the V. I. A. team adopted the American plan of using their spare players in quick succession and thereby giving all of the players on their team a short rest, these tactics proved to be the downfall of the Angeles team and the V. I. team were then able to forge ahead with the points and won the game. The line-up of the teams was as follows:

Port Angeles: V. I. A. A. Thomson 8, Forward; Wachter 3, Guard; Dun 2, Centre; Huxtable 3, Guard; Passmore 1, R. MacDonald, Guard; Underwood 2, Hoar, Spare; Dowds 24, Spare; McIlrae, Spare.

Referee N. Kennedy. The ladies' game between the V. I. polo team and V. I. City League team proved very exciting, and came up to expectations. The polo team were without the services of Doris Grubb, her place being taken by Anna McGeorge. Both teams played at a terrific pace, the checking on both sides being particularly vigorous.

The combination of the League team was superior to that of the polo players, who were playing together as a team for the first time this season. The score was 9-5 in favor of the city League team.

Scotty Dowds refereed this game. The ladies' game between T. Spencer's and the Hudson Bay proved to be a most thrilling encounter, the rivalry between these two newly formed teams being particularly keen, the guards on both sides playing a most effective game with the result that up till five minutes before final time the score stood at 1 point to 0 in favor of Hudson Bay. At this period Minnie Cox succeeded in scoring two baskets for Spencers, which won them the game, the final score being Spencers 4, Hudson Bay 1. Miss Muriel Daniels refereed this game in a capable manner.

84,000 BOTTLES OF REAL WHISKY COMING TO B. C.

Seattle, March 13.—Seven thousand cases, containing twelve bottles each of fine Scotch and Irish whisky, floated about Elliott Bay yesterday afternoon—in ships, not at large—while they went through the process of being transferred from the steamship lowan to the steamer Fulton for transportation to Vancouver and Victoria, B. C., consigned to the British Columbia Liquor Control Board. The shipment reached here on March 8 on the lowan from Europe.

Not willing to take a chance on any of this choice whisky stopping en route, the transfer of each case and bottle was supervised by Federal prohibition agents, and two agents on directions from Roy C. Lyle, Federal prohibition director, will remain with the shipment until it reaches its destination on Canadian soil. The Fulton left last night for British Columbia.

Special steps are being taken for the welcome of the Prince of Wales in Japan, according to exchanges to hand yesterday on the Montague. The British cruiser Renown, escorted by a squadron of Japanese battleships, is expected to steam into Yokohama Harbor early on the morning of April 12 with the Prince of Wales, who will go as the representative of the British Empire to return the visit of the Crown Prince of Japan to England last Spring. His stay in Japan will extend to between three and four weeks, which will be marked by the most elaborate receptions and the most brilliant entertainments that Japan has ever given to a Royal visitor from abroad.

Victoria's First Fashion Display Week

TO-DAY hundreds of enthusiastic visitors enjoyed the big Fashion Parade, arranged to illustrate to the best advantage the new styles designed for the Spring of 1922. Every department had constant crowds of admirers, who viewed with interest the large displays of fashionable apparel and fabrics brought from the noted fashion centres and great manufacturing marts of the world.

To-morrow this interesting display will continue. There are new goods and beautiful merchandise to be seen in every section of the store. All are welcome.

The Mantle Department is a Veritable Treasury of Women's Spring Apparel

New Smart Models in Serge and Tricotine Suits

The new Serge and Tricotine Suits for Spring are quite the smartest you have seen. The styles feature the popular "box" coat, strictly tailored models, the new bell sleeves and embroidery trimming in contrasting shades. The colors include navy, henna and sand. The qualities are of the best, the values wonderful.

Pretty Jersey Suits

The always popular Jersey Suit will be much in evidence this Spring, and from the display you will find in our mantle department you may readily select your favorite. They are designed in tuxedo styles and shown in popular shades. Practical suits for street or business wear.

An Array of Attractive Sports Coats

The new Sports Coats, designed for the Spring, will surely appeal to your good taste. There are coats of velour, polo cloth and chin-chilla. The coats are designed with or without belts, with slash or patch pockets. All are exceedingly well tailored, half or full lined and shown in shades of tan, reindeer, brown, taupe and sand.

Skirts for Dress and Sports Wear

In the Skirt Section there is a comprehensive assembly of skirts. There are silks in many pretty styles, handsomely designed and well finished. Also a large selection of the newest sports skirts in popular shades and patterned in stripes and plaids.

New Style Blouses

In the Blouse Section there is a fully representative assortment of the new styles for Spring. Georgettes, crepe de chine, silks and pretty voiles. Beautiful over-blouses, plain tailored effects and the newest in middy styles. The blouse you desire at the price you wish to pay.

IN WOMAN'S DOMAIN

KRICKE GOLF SUITS SHOWN IN FASHION PARADE

Latest Styles at Moderate Prices at Hudson's Bay Spring Opening

Slim lines or bouffant effects, gay colorings, bright enough to rival Solomon in all his glory or hues of sombre persuasion, alluring sports clothes for the woman who clings to the eternal feminine or natty, boyish-looking breeches suits for the girl who is willing to forego the handkerchief and skirt in order to lessen her golf handicap, the flaring Mandarin sleeve or the revived "bell" of former years, skirts were shown in a kaleidoscopic impression of the fashion parade staged at the Hudson's Bay Company salons this afternoon which left on the feeling that the styles for Spring are more accommodating than ever. No longer need the woman inop to-morrow afternoon between the hours of 3 and 4.30. To the accompaniment of music from a three-piece orchestra, charming mannequins, chosen from the company's huge staff, paraded in the very latest sport clothes, suits, capes, wrap coats and dresses. The suits and gowns represented but a few of the many charming fashions acquired by Miss M. Grimason, the buyer of ready-to-wear, while on her recent buying trip to the East, while the charming hats came from the stock purchased by Miss Workman, head of the millinery department, in the leading fashion centres.

Before a huge crowd of interested spectators fifty creations were shown this afternoon, and will be shown again to-morrow afternoon between the hours of 3 and 4.30. To the accompaniment of music from a three-piece orchestra, charming mannequins, chosen from the company's huge staff, paraded in the very latest sport clothes, suits, capes, wrap coats and dresses. The suits and gowns represented but a few of the many charming fashions acquired by Miss M. Grimason, the buyer of ready-to-wear, while on her recent buying trip to the East, while the charming hats came from the stock purchased by Miss Workman, head of the millinery department, in the leading fashion centres.

Sports Clothes. The first part of the programme was devoted to the display of Sports clothes, alluring enough to convert every woman into a follower of the great outdoors. A Bramley sports dress of a lovely henna shade, with long-waisted loose bodice, finely-trimmed with the very latest "sea-shell" trimming was followed by a smart tweed jersey dress of a fawn and blue mixture with bell sleeves and worn with a hat of blue applied with gay colored medallions. "Lipstick" red, one of the newest colorings, was featured in a flannel sport dress trimmed with white silk braid, the bell sleeves caught at the wrists with buckles and a hat of red straw completing the smart toilette.

Knicker Golf Suits. In striking contrast to the essentially feminine tennis outfit of paddy green coat and white baronette skirt was a three-piece suit of deer velvet, which at first glance suggested a coat of Norfolk persuasion and a short skirt. But the removal of the skirt revealed a pair of knee-breeches designed for greater freedom of swing for the lady golfer. Of similar fashion was a three-piece suit of orchid homespun, which, beneath the skirt, became a smart street suit, while the knickers are designed for sports wear.

Capes Popular. Another novelty in sports clothes were the two-piece comprising jumper frocks with cape. Of this description was the most becoming suit of shrimp-pink homespun frock and cape finished with bell sleeves and hat with upturned brim trimmed with tiny iridescent sea shells.

Just the thing for the chilly days of Spring were the booming sports coats of velvet, including a handsome imported English "toga" coat of blue and tan checked velvet, a leather-colored homespun cloak with a soft suede hat to match, and a sand-colored homespun cape, worn with a soft pleated skirt of white checked with sand. More elaborate wraps for afternoon wear revealed the new materials, Romanette, Veldette and the ever-popular chinchilla velours and homespun.

Dressy Suits. The more dressy suits reveal a wide diversity of line and trimming. The first model, a three-piece suit tricotine, included a navy skirt with bodice effect, the serviceable tricotine and a loose box-coat of braided tricotine, the bell sleeves faced with Canna crepe. A becoming hat of Canna crepe of orange lines, gracefully draped with a veil to match, gave the finishing touch to a smart toilette. A suit of fawn tricotine included a cape finished with heavy girle and handsome tassels and was worn with a charming hat of the popular periwinkle blue.

Match-Stick Trimming. One of the novelties in millinery trimmings, grace the black horsehair hat worn with a smart three-piece tricotine suit fashioned with a cape-coat effect and bell sleeves, the serviceable tricotine and a loose box-coat of braided tricotine, the bell sleeves faced with Canna crepe. A becoming hat of Canna crepe of orange lines, gracefully draped with a veil to match, gave the finishing touch to a smart toilette. A suit of fawn tricotine included a cape finished with heavy girle and handsome tassels and was worn with a charming hat of the popular periwinkle blue.

Afternoon Frocks. A bevy of lovely afternoon frocks ranging from the serviceable tricotine to the graceful georgette elicited a buzz of admiration from the spectators. Quite a new note was struck with a frock of emerald green, navy tricotine, the mandarin sleeves of tomato georgette finished with embroidered appliques. At the low-waisted, peppy little frock of the tricotine were lined with the georgette while two cornucopia-shaped pockets blazed in a riot of colored embroidery. A chic model hat of black horsehair trimmed with Pekin blue ribbon and French flowers completed this alluring costume.

A navy and grey polart two dress heavily braided in pearl grey and worn with a pearl grey tagal hat with uncured velvet lining.

Cotone frock was fashioned with panels of embroidered Bhudda red Canton crepe, made with mandarin sleeves and a hat of navy and brown turban of Bhudda red; a full over-dress finished with ball-trimming and fuchsia embroidery lifted a navy blue tricotine dress out of the ordinary.

With a navy and gold box red dress of the new material "Krepeknit" was crowned with a jaunty Chin-Chin sailor or red to match.

Bouffant or Slim Lines. A pannier-like effect was achieved with much charm in a bouffant frock of nigger-brown taffeta with belt of jade green and lovely model hat of jade green, with up-turned brim embellished with gay French crepe.

Date Canton crepe with overdress heavily fringed composed a graceful gown worn with a hat of Spanish lace finished with a Gours feather fan-taste; especially charming was a creation of navy taffeta showing the newest bishop sleeves of pleated ribbon faced with red velvet and a navy beret hat faced with roses and draped with the newest jewelled veil.

For more elaborate wear there was a beautiful frock of tomato red Canton crepe heavily embroidered in white with Jenny neck and elbow sleeves; astle crepe heavily beaded fashioned a lovely frock suitable for reception wear; fuchsia georgette wonderfully patterned with steel beads and finished with the latest belt and large bow.

Georgette trimmed with flowers and ostrich plumes; a demure frock of bisque taffeta with Jenny bodice and petal skirt, finished with scarlet ribbon and hat of navy and brown turban of Bhudda red; a full over-dress finished with ball-trimming and fuchsia embroidery lifted a navy blue tricotine dress out of the ordinary.

KNIGHTS OF Khorassan HOSTS AT SUCCESSFUL ENTERTAINMENT

The Dramatic Order Knights of Khorassan, Tel El Mahuta Temple, No. 165, entertained the parent order, the Knights of Pythias on Thursday evening to a very interesting entertainment which was held in the K. of P. Hall. There was a large turnout of both organizations. The decorations and setting were magnificently staged, the whole representing as nearly as possible "an Eastern Potentate's Palace".

The following programme was given: Magical appearance act, M. C. Mustapa, D.O.K.K.; recitations by Volary William Battle; magical and sleight of hand tricks by Mr. Frank Merrifield; song, Volary W. A. Kettie; wrestling bout, Knight L. J. Levy and Volary H. McLean Turner, address by Bro. Bud Fisher, turning brother from Port Angeles, Wash.; mandolin selection, Knight Percy A. Fitzsimmons; peanut race between Dokes and Knights, resulting in the winner of the Knights, Bro. George Todd, and winner of the Dokes, Volary John Grant; wrestling bout between Levy and Turner; boxing bout between Volary James Mackay and Volary A. S. Pengelly. Brother Arthur Manson acted as referee in the wrestling and boxing bouts.

The personnel of the temple's divan was as follows: Geo. W. Allison; Grand Emir, W. A. Shaw; Mahadi O. J. Pickering; Secretary, James Mackay; Treasurer, Jas. H. Mansell; Sheik, Jas. Kerr; Mokanna, Chris Heeking; Satrap, R. Arter; Sahib J. A. McAllister; Mustapa, A. G. H. Harding; Keeper of the Mystic Well J. Henderson; Escorts, W. G. Goudie and W. J. Webb; also Arabs, Brigands, and Bedouins.

The divan were their regalia of Eastern splendor. Many visiting brothers were present, representing lodges in Port Angeles, Wash.; Vancouver, Nelson, Nanaimo, Powell River, and Ottawa. Word has just been received that the Imperial Prince Brother Gus Meese, of Spokane, Wash., will make his official visit to British Columbia and will arrive in Victoria on April 18, when the temple will entertain him.

AT THE END OF THE RAINBOW

By Nancibelle Hale

Another Fascinating Romance by the Author of "A Gamble in Beauty."

CHAPTER VIII.

With unbelieving eyes she again read the message then broke into a queer strained laugh.

The telegram was sent from San Francisco, Cal. It read:

"Letter just reached me. Your idea is splendid, sensible and courageous. Will be in New York soon. Writing."

It was signed "Paul Howe."

Evangeline believing telegrams were dictated in the lower regions and designed to cause tears, had busied herself near Margaret, adjusting some pieces of furniture so she could be near enough to see how Margaret "took it."

"I see it's no bad news, ma'am," she now said, vaguely disappointed. She had a great liking for the dramatic.

"It's the most wonderful news in the world, Evangeline," replied Margaret.

Evangeline waited, hoping for more information. Then, seeing her mistress had no notion of telling her just what was the nature of the wonderful message, withdrew to the kitchen. She had visions of immense legacies from long lost relatives, and as she washed and put away the dishes her imaginative mind, well fed by things she had seen at the "movies," built a plot around the telegram which contained thrills sufficient to interest whoever selects plays for "Bill Hart."

"Murders, rescues and intrigues, well sandwiched in with romance."

Gone was Margaret's recent philosophy about true happiness and her notion that Paul would probably worry her to death, should she marry him. If death were to come in any such pleasant way, where was its sting!

Again she read the message. There could be no mistaking it. He wanted to marry her, too—though her letter had been "splendid" and "courageous." What was he like? Had he changed much in the twelve years since she had seen him? She had told him in that letter that she wasn't at all sure she was in love with him, and at that time had not been. But now how overwhelming and wonderful seemed flowing over her, carrying her away with its intensity, no doubt because for the first time since she had dreamed of marrying him she was allowing herself to think of it as a reality.

It would take five days for a letter from California to reach her, so she would have to do her best to keep calm and carry on "business as usual." Her experience while a nurse in France had fitted her for just this sort of suspense, but never in her life had she found it so difficult to "hold in." The big moment of her life had come—the great adventure. And how marvellously the stage was set! How much better to see Paul here than in some hotel or cafe! He would, of course, have to give up her apartment. That would be easy, considering the scarcity of them. But there wasn't a particle of regret at leaving the place, which had only recently seemed to her the most desirable thing within her grasp.

She knew practically nothing of Paul, but felt a great sense of peace and of willingness to go with him to the end of the world.

It was with difficulty that she got through the work at the office the next few days. On the 5th she hurried home expecting to receive Paul's letter. It was waiting for her.

It was the first letter Margaret had received from Paul for eleven years, but there was no mistaking the handwriting. For a moment before tearing open the envelope she studied it, trying to quiet her wildly beating heart. However, it wasn't long before she was engrossed in what seemed to her the most remarkable document she had ever read:

Dear Margaret:

I just arrived in San Francisco this morning from the Orient, where I've been looking after some business of the company I'm with. Your letter was waiting for me at the hotel.

To say the least, you handed me a twister, which, translated into the classics, means a great big surprise. I hadn't the slightest idea I might appeal to any one as a haven of rest, but since

I seem to do that very thing, I'm surely glad of it.

I never like to take a long time to think things over, hence I'm answering you right away, and as soon as I have finished writing this, we send you a wire also. I decide things quickly and move fast, also prefer to have other people do the same. That's why I liked your line, saying "If it sounds convincing to you, it will take me just two days, to get my tressou, and be ready for the big event."

I haven't given much thought to marriage lately. In fact, there hasn't seemed to be any particular reason for my doing so. But your letter gives me plenty of food for thought, and is convincing. I believe I owe myself a home. I like your frankness in saying you are not at all sure you are in love with me. That's exactly the way I feel about it.

I'm afraid I should be receiving more than I'd be giving, which hardly seems altogether fair.

First, I am going to tell you a little about myself, then I will again take up the matter of marriage as suggested by you. But in any event don't marry the man about whom you wrote. There seems to be no foundation for happiness there, so how would you expect it?

To begin: I've had various sales jobs since leaving college, mostly in the far west and north-west. For the last three years have been connected with the Camors Rubber Company, whose headquarters are in San Francisco. Dick Camors, the President, and I went through college together. I believe I wrote you about him in those early Freshman days. The Boston branch, to which you addressed your letter, is just a sales office. How in the world Laura Felton remembered the company's name and associated it with Boston is more than I can figure out.

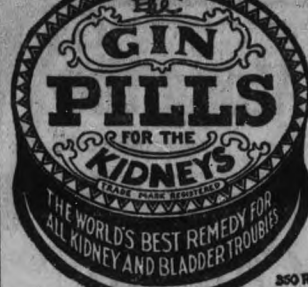

The Boston office is really under me, but my headquarters have been in New York practically ever since I've been with the company.

I imagined you were in New York, but you've certainly managed to drop out of things—so far as Vinton is concerned. I've always said mother knew all about the lives of every one who at any time lived in Vinton, but even she has furnished me with mightily little information concerning you. We did hear, however, that you were married, and later that Baxter had died and you were again living with your aunt. I've had no later bulletins on the affairs of Margaret Baxter, so you can imagine my surprise when your letter reached me.

And now for some "figures": My present income is $10,000 a year. It has recently been stepped up to $12,000. I couldn't consider taking into myself a wife, as this salary is somewhat involved.

From the very first I not only put into the Camors Rubber Company all the ready money I had, but have been investing a large chunk of my salary in their stock. It's the very best buy I know of anywhere, and will, without a question, make me independent in the future. I've arranged to leave half of the salary I'm now getting with them, to be turned into stock. So my salary is virtually only $5,000.

I do not have to do this—I mean I'd get the $10,000 just the same if I didn't buy their stock, but it's too good an opportunity to miss.

and one I couldn't have except for my long friendship with Camors. He has had the stock set aside for me until it's paid for. Previous to this last raise I've only had $3,000 for myself out of my salary, but since I have an unlimited expense account privilege and did considerable travelling, at which times all my expenses were paid, I've managed to worry along. In the future there'll be much less travelling for me practically non—so all we could figure on would be the five thou.

Now what I'm getting at is this: Can a man support a wife on that amount in New York? Can a man keep you happy and sufficiently provided for on such a measly little income? We'd only have to scratch along on this for a short time because there'll be no raises, but the big splash cannot come for four years. Then I'll have paid for this stock and it'll be milk and honey for us whatever kind of draisins and cats we prefer. And when we are old, we can toast our shins over our own grate fire, knowing that money isn't a problem with us any more.

Now since we're started in on this thing on a business basis—and that's sensible under the circumstances—suppose we wait until we can talk things over more fully before closing the deal. I'll be in New York within a couple of days from the time this letter reaches you. Then we can go into things fully and honestly. If after so doing we are of the same mind, we will slip away quietly somewhere and be married "immediately." On the other hand, if either of us could change his mind—well, it would be a mistake under those circumstances to be married, wouldn't it?

Rather, cold and businesslike, isn't it, but still I think it sensible. There are a lot about myself that cannot well be written—and a lot of things I might want to ask you also. Nothing of any particular consequence that occurs to me now, but I know I will be doing a lot of thinking in the near future. I'll see you now and the time I see you I have broadened somewhat since we've seen each other and feel that all have to live their lives as they see fit—and that rule was not made for man alone. I'm sure you've lived a cleaner life than I have, therefore I'm quite willing to take you for what you are and will be. It isn't how you start but how you finish that counts most in this life after all.

So my reason for holding off from the final answer isn't because I want to pry into the minute details of your past. Just on principle, I always believe a big deal should be handled by personal interview rather than by correspondence. And this begins to look like the biggest deal I ever tackled.

I know you must have implicit confidence in me, otherwise you would have written as you did, and whether anything comes of our "investigations" or not, you may continue to have that confidence, knowing it will in no way be abused.

Must go and post this now, then with the aid of a stenographer tackle a flock of mail stacked up here for me.

As always,
PAUL G. HOWE.

THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TO-NIGHT

THE IRON POT

Part III.

Ivan stopped when he felt the pull of the iron pot and giving his arm a shake he again started for home, but again the pot tugged and this time it seemed to point with one of its funny little legs to the path that led to the castle of the old lord.

"The pot is bewitched," thought Ivan, and then, remembering that it might be a magic pot, as he got it from those who live in the magic world, he followed the pull and turned back to the path that led him straight to the castle of the rich old lord. The castle looked black and gloomy as he came near to it, but in one window on the lower floor Ivan saw a light.

"The old lord must be up counting his gold," thought Ivan. "I have heard that he has much hidden in the castle somewhere."

When he came to the window where he saw the light Ivan stepped very carefully, for he was curious to see what was going on inside and so bent was he upon finding out that he quite forgot the iron pot he carried.

Climbing up the stone wall of the castle which was rough and made it easy to reach the window. Ivan saw at a table in the room into which he looked the old lord with a pile of gold in front of him.

The vines grew so thickly about the window that he could easily look in without being seen, and as he looked out of his hand flew the iron pot and before his astonished eyes Ivan saw it leap to the table in front of the old lord.

As it landed with a crash on the table before him the old lord started and a look of terror came over his face. "That pot," he gasped, "the iron pot of the Brown Goblins. I promised to keep their trees and be good to the poor if they helped me to find the hidden gold."

Closer to the edge of the table walked the iron pot as if it were following the frightened old miser as he drew away from the table. "I'll do it," he whispered, reaching for the gold, and Ivan saw him drop piece by piece a gold coin into the pot until it was full.

Then to his surprise the pot swiftly flew from the table and back to the window and stood on the sill waiting for Ivan to carry it off.

Picking it up Ivan climbed down and still wondering at all he had seen walked toward his home and not until he was in the road some distance from the castle did he remember that the gold did not belong to him.

"I won't take it home," he said setting the iron pot down on the ground. "It is just like stealing it to take it this way."

But the iron pot would not be left and it waddled after Ivan on its funny little legs and at last he picked it up. "Take it," said a small voice. "We give it to you because we apollied your chance to get a good dinner from the old lord by stopping you from cutting down our trees."

Ivan looked up and on the tip end of a tree branch he saw the little Brown Goblin who had spoken to him back in the forest. The pot will never be empty. When that gold is gone it will bring you more, for the rich old lord broke his promise to us and now he must give away the gold he so dearly loves which we helped him to get."

Ivan and his mother lived in comfort the rest of their days, for whenever they saw the bottom of the iron pot the next morning it was sure to be filled again with the bright gold coins.

Ached From Head to Foot
—Had Suffered Five Years

"I heard so many people telling what Tanlac had done for them that I tried it in my own case, and I am convinced it is a wonderful medicine," said David Wellington, a well-known drug clerk, Harpersburg, Manitoba.

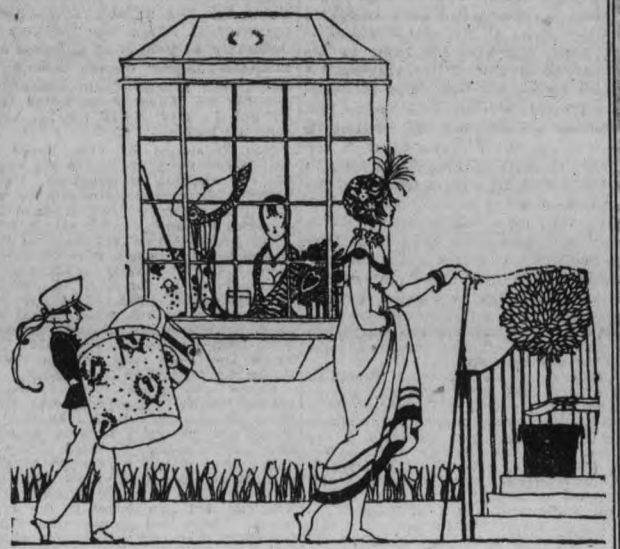

"For five years I had been a sufferer from rheumatic fever. I simply ached all over from head to foot, and my bones felt like they were going to crack. My knees were so stiff actually I used to walk like I had wooden legs, and I just dragged one foot after the other. Everything I ate seemed to sour on my stomach, and I was bothered a good deal with backache and headaches."

"I began to improve gradually from the first dose of Tanlac, and kept it up until my stomach was in perfect condition, and the rheumatism had left me. I am in splendid health now and feel that it is only right that I should tell my experience so that others who suffer as I did may know where they may get relief, too."

Tanlac is sold in Victoria by The Owl Drug Co. and all other druggists everywhere.

NEW HOPE FOR RUGGED PARTS OF THIS PROVINCE

B.C. Mountain Peaks, Like
Those of Switzerland, Valuable

A new interest in the valleys, the mountains and the peaks of British Columbia was given those who attended the lecture of Dean R. W. Brock, of the University, in the Technical school, New Westminster, recently.

With a fine related series of views to illustrate his exposition of the physical features of the province, the lecturer made vivid many things that while well known to the geologists are only dimly comprehended by the layman, and so brought home to local or provincial surroundings explanations that more fully illuminated the subject.

The origin of the granite rock, the formation of mountains, the freaks in folding, the relation of mountain ranges to the great circle of the earth in the shrinkage of the globe, how great mountain ranges were all ways formed where there had been originally great deposits of sedimentary material, causing by its weight a crumpling of the surface of the earth, the glacial action of the past and the present, the great trench systems formed by this action as between the Rocky mountains, and the Purcell range, between that and the Columbia mountains, between that and the Selkirk and the Cascade and Coast systems—these all were fully dealt with. The views of the glaciers of the North, and of those towering mountains Mt. St. Elias and Mt. Logan were very interesting, and from these there could be formed a conception of the conditions that existed in past geological ages, ago when the great glaciers were cutting out the valleys of what are now rivers as the Fraser and the Coquitlam and such trenches as Harrison Lake.

Comparison was made between the mountainous conditions and scenery of this province and Switzerland, and it was shown how the Swiss had made use of the fertile areas in the mountain regions, right up to the snow line for pasturage of flocks, roads being built up mountain sides for attraction of tourists, and hotels to draw this trade which was an important one. He predicted, would come when British Columbia would realize more fully the advantages to be derived from capitalizing her scenery and catering more practically to the tourist industry at the same time opening up mountain plateaus or valleys for cultivation.

IRISH CONCERT

Attractive Programme at Empress Hotel Friday in Aid of the Poor.

The poor of the city will be assisted through the medium of a grand Irish concert which is to be held in the Empress Hotel ballroom on St. Patrick's Day, March 17 under the distinguished patronage of the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Nichol. J. D. O'Connell will be the chair.

Old and modern Irish songs, instrumental numbers and dances will be featured and the following will assist in the most attractive programme: Miss Mamie Fraser with a chorus including the Misses Caryl Toimle, Nona Cutler, Frances Briggs, and Elia Michaels; Mrs. Hamlet, Miss Enid Ruddock, Miss Gladys Davies, Miss Irene Burnett, Miss Bernice Penzer, Miss Adeline Grant, Mrs. J. Nesbitt, Misses Zarelli and Pout, Miss R. Melville, Miss Matthews, Miss Barbara Parkes, Miss Belle Eilers, Miss Adeline Crossley, Miss Jean Wallace, Miss Carmelia Walker, Miss Florence Hambley, Miss Mary Nelson, Messrs. F. J. Sehl, R. F. Webb, Dan Wallace, T. Keweenaw, Mr. McLean, Masters Gordon Hambley and Wilfred Burnett.

There is no medium through which disease so often attacks the system as by allowing the bowels to become constipated, and there is no other trouble which flesh is heir to that is more liable to be neglected, because material inconvenience may not be felt, at once, from irregular action of the bowels. When there is not regularity of the bowels, the decayed and effete matter, with its poisonous gases, soon poisons the whole system by being absorbed into it, causing violent sick and bilious headaches, internal bleeding or protruding piles, heartburn, jaundice, etc.

Community Centre.—The St. Saviour's defeated the Mets at the Armory on Saturday night before a crowd of some 1,700, to the score of 32-15. The game throughout was decidedly one-sided and the St. Saviour's quintette outclassed the Mets from all angles. A musical concert was given by the Fifth Regiment band, which, dancing and swimming rounded out a successful evening.

Dr. Thomson to Speak.—Dental hygiene will be the subject of an address by Dr. Harry S. Thomson, head of the Dental Research Department of the University of Chicago, at the High School to-night at 8 o'clock.

King's Daughters.—On Friday, March 10, 1922, a general meeting of the King's Daughters will be held in the rooming, when the principal business will include the final plans for the daftod tea. At 3 o'clock the Ministering Circle will hold its monthly meeting.

The subject of to-morrow's lecture is "Mediaeval Mysticism—The Grail Legend, German Thought, Thomas à Kempis."

Alliance Francaise.—Madame Breissan-Saccon will be the lecturer at the third of the series under the auspices of Alliance Francaise to be held at Victoria College, Craigdarroch, on Saturday evening next at 8:30. Her subject will be "Japan as Seen by a Frenchwoman." The lecturer has traveled extensively and lectured in many of the world and her address should be of timely interest.

Dance at Marigold.—Another successful dance was held in the Marigold hall on Friday, there being over 175 dancers on the floor with a fine programme of dances, including many spotlight numbers. The dance was continued one hour longer by request. The Harmony 3-piece Orchestra supplied the music, which was excellent, and received many encores. The management announced a masquerade to be held on March 24, and a good time guaranteed to everyone.

Esquimalt Unemployed.—At a meeting of the Esquimalt Unemployed Association, held yesterday, it was resolved that Secretary G. I. Cook should forward a letter to Reeve Lockley, taking exception to the replacement of Constable Andrews, who is temporarily indisposed, by a man not a resident of Esquimalt. The executive of the Association is to wait upon the Esquimalt Council in session to-morrow night to lay before that body further representations. The meeting appointed W. Rose as a delegate of the Esquimalt Unemployed Association to the Victoria and District Unemployed Council, and in place of the resignation of the executive who had resigned it appointed G. James, W. Rose and Mr. Rogers as delegates.

G.W.V.A. BAND ENDING SEASON

One More Concert; Great Interest Last Evening

At the Capitol Theatre last evening there took place the nineteenth concert given by the G.W.V.A. band. Next Sunday will see the conclusion of the Winter series of twenty concerts, planned by that excellent organization and its bandmaster James M. Miller, under the concert direction of George J. Dyke. No doubt the knowledge that these Sunday concerts are drawing to a close brought out a large audience and those present seemingly enjoyed the items of a well selected and varied programme. Included in the same were a number of songs by four vocalists, who, for the first time appeared at these concerts, namely, Miss Marie McLaughlin, soprano; Mrs. William Brown, mezzo soprano; Joseph Hall, tenor; and Captain C. H. Christie, baritone.

The Vocalists.—Miss McLaughlin belongs to the number of young singers in the City who will, without doubt, be heard to much advantage at no distant date in the sphere of music they have chosen. She is naturally gifted, and sings with keen intelligence. Her method is sound, and her notes, true as steel, are delivered with unerring accuracy. She sings with much confidence, and her rendering of "It is Only a Tiny Garden" (Haydn Wood), pleased her hearers so much that another number, "The Swallow's Light Song," "The Swallows"—had to be given. Mrs. William Brown, who by the way, has always been a hearty supporter of the G.W.V.A. band organization, selected a song that suited her voice admirably. Both pleasing and charming, her rendition of the charming song "Just a Little House of Love," and her encore number "Good Morning, Brother Sunshine" (Liza Lehmann), showed her to be a most conscientious student. Joseph Hall, who has a voice of beautiful tenor quality, which he controls excellently. He was well liked by the audience, and a recall was inevitable. His enunciation is quite good—and in Stephen Adams' "Thora" was feeling was displayed; this he follows with "Dear Little Boy of Mine," one of Ernest Ball's well-known songs. The band played splendidly throughout. Captain C. H. Christie, who has some splendid notes, and his baritone, round in tone, and unforced, was most agreeable in his two songs, "You Alone" (Geel), and "Give Me Your Love" (Ralph Seymour). The band played splendidly throughout. James M. Miller, conducting his band with dexterity and unusual concentration of thought, light and shade, attack, expression, fidelity to tempo, were all well done, and the audience showered much applause upon him and his players. The numbers which appealed most to those present were the "Colonel Bogey" March (by request), the overture "Bohemian Girl," the two Hungarian Dances "Allegretto," and "Molto Vivace" (Brahms) and the very popular "Chimes of Normandy."

VICTORIA FAILS TO ASSIST IN CITIES' STREET CAR FIGHT

Not Helping to Block Federal Incorporation Move

British Columbia municipalities have almost completed plans for fighting the attempt of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company to secure a Federal charter but Victoria, alone among the larger cities, is taking no interest in the matter. This situation has developed during the last week or so and became perfectly clear last week when the city was asked to send representatives to a conference on the street car question and failed to do so. From now on the other municipalities, it is understood, will act alone and will be weakened in the effort by the fact that Victoria is not supporting their fight at Ottawa.

Took No Action.—Victoria showed a passing interest in the B. C. Electric situation when it was first made known that the Company would endeavor, at the present session of Parliament, to have itself removed from the jurisdiction of British Columbia cities to the jurisdiction of the Dominion Board of Railway Commissioners. When the municipalities of the Province held a conference on the question in Vancouver some weeks ago the City sent delegates over to attend the meeting. These delegates agreed with all the other delegates that the B. C. Electric Company's move should be fought with all the influence of the combined cities of British Columbia. The delegates so reported to the City Council, and urged that Victoria should join in the fight. To the surprise of the delegates their report was merely received without any action being taken on their recommendations.

Reject Invitation.—Since that time there have been no further developments as far as Victoria is concerned. No action was taken on the first conference naturally concluded, when their recommendations were politely ignored, and when an invitation to another municipal conference on the street car question was received by the delegates last week it was not accepted. The conference thus proceeded without any Victoria delegates in attendance.

B.C. GAME POLICY NOT DECIDED YET

Premier Denies Any Change Has Been Considered

Premier Oliver said to-day that he had been informed that there was considerable uneasiness among sportsmen as to the future policy of the Government in respect to game sports, and that the Hon. A. R. Baker as chairman of the Game Conservation Board. The Premier said that he had personally considered the matter no consideration nor had any change of policy been decided upon. Neither would there be any consideration or action on the matter until the return from the East of the Hon. A. M. Manson, Attorney-General. This announcement was made because of newspaper stories appearing in Vancouver to the effect that the work of the Game Board was being permanently placed under the Provincial Police.

SUGGESTIONS FOR THE B. C. ELECTRIC.

To the Editor:—I. If the B. C. E. Ry. would sell twenty tickets for $1.00, only at the office, it would be worth while to get them, and help our car service.

2. Why not have the numbers on the cars again? They are so much easier to see than the high numbers.

IN A HURRY.

BLUE SUNDAY.

To the Editor:—In your issue of March 10, 1922, in the report of the meeting held by the Police Commissioners of Victoria, B. C., it was stated that on and after April 2, 1922, Blue Sunday is going to be put into force. Mr. Staneland is accredited with having said there are seventy-four names on a list, referring to the list of stores operating on Sunday. Only seventeen of these are on the voters' list—thirty-eight are foreigners, thirty being Chinese. In passing I would like to point out to Mr. Staneland and all whom it may concern, that being on the municipal voters' list does not always denote what a citizen is. There are hundreds of householders that are not on the list, also hundreds of single men and women British subjects, by virtue of the fact of the so-called "franchise tax," which is nothing more or less than a "franchise tax," a direct violation of the constitution. At the last municipal election we heard a lot of claptrap about graft, corruption, scandal from the mouthpieces of the kill joy party. Not one word about removing the abominations of abominations, namely, the "franchise tax." The kill joy party made a great noise about Mr. Castle's paying the franchise tax for men to defeat Dr. E. Hall. It is a fact that he did pay several men's taxes to put them on the voters' list. I would like to point out also that several hundreds refused to accept the bribe. The most disgusting thing about the whole business, to my way of reasoning, is to think that because a person is poor he is denied the right to have a voice in municipal affairs. To my knowledge not one of the kill joys advocated removing said tax. Like all good politicians the main thing is to get in power any old way, no matter how you get in—government for the people by the people. Mayor Marchant is accredited with having said that he favors "Blue Sunday" because it is in the "interest of labor," also because the majority of these stores are run by those foreign to Canadian nationality. Pertaining to labor, I for one would like to be shown where "Blue Sunday" is beneficial to the working man's wife and dependents. For the moment, what chance has a working man who is married to go out with his wife and family only on a Sunday? Also what harm would he be doing to the community by buying his food for his family on a Sunday, providing he has the price? The other objection with reference to Chinese, I was always under the impression this was a free country. I take it for granted anybody can open a store providing they have the price. The Chinaman is a good citizen as long as he works for wages. But, lo and behold, as soon as he goes into business for himself, according to the kill joy way of reasoning, he at once becomes an undesirable citizen. It is all according to whose ex is gored. In the last analysis all governments, whether they be municipal, provincial or federal, are nothing more or less than a reflection of the intelligence of the people who elect them. When Bernard Shaw coined the phrase, "That this planet we live on is nothing more or less than a clearing house for lunatics from other planets," I for one, conceivably long ago realized that the sane people were in the asylum. Personally, I would have made application to the lunatic asylum for the rest of mankind, if they gave me an implement such as a barrow, instead of turning it up side down, I should proceed to fill it, thus getting thrown out.

ELK LAKE CONTROVERSY.

To the Editor:—The Saanich municipal clerk's resolution, that a suggestion be made to the council of the City of Victoria and Municipality of South Saanich, that the City Council pass a by-law bringing into effect Provincial Legislation passed in 1919 constituting Elk Lake as a park, and containing a clause that this by-law shall not be rescinded without a vote of the ratepayers of what may then be the City of Victoria. The not rescinding clause is quite naive. Why not provide for conformation by a vote of the ratepayers? For ambiguity this is a champion resolution. A suggestion to be made to both Municipalities but the City is to do the doing, and be badly done at that. The Corporation of Victoria Water Works Act, 1920, Chap. 51, Section 7, says: "The lands, privileges and waters, which shall be ascertained, set out or appropriated by the said Corporation, for the purpose of the use as aforesaid, shall thereupon and forever thereafter be vested in the Corporation of the City of Victoria." Section 35, says: "The lands, buildings, machinery, reservoirs, pipes and all other real or personal property connected with or appertaining or belonging to the Water Works, shall from henceforth be exempt from taxation." There is no ambiguity about these sections. What follows?

1. There is nothing in the bugaboo cry of Saanich threats of taxing the property. They haven't the power.

2. There is no reason why Victoria should make a park out of Saanich property (quoted by the clerk for purpose of showing taxes to be derived from it, at a value of $350,000) for a park, or to share in its cost of development, with the Saanich. The object of turning it into a golf links which they have power to do by the 1919 Legislation referred to. We cannot afford it at the present juncture. We might consider selling them what they want for a park.

3. There is a recent decisive man-

Vancouver Defeated by 5-1 in Interesting Game Here on Saturday Afternoon

W. J. Bowser, leader of the Conservative opposition, is leaving to-day to enter the Nelson by-election campaign where the Conservatives are trying to hold the seat against the onslaught of the Government forces under Premier Oliver. The poll has been fixed for March 22. Nomination day is next Saturday. "It looks like a hard fight," said Mr. Bowser. "But Mr. McHardy, our candidate, is the right type of man, and he is going to be in the battle every minute." Mr. Bowser says that he is not worried about the attacks made on him as leader of his party by the Young Conservative Association of Vancouver. "If they weren't criticizing me I'd think there was something wrong," he went on. "It is not necessary for me to resign the leadership. I have personally agreed to the discussion of the leadership at the Conservative convention and if somebody else is chosen I shall be willing to serve him loyally."

"It will be the first Conservative convention since the 1919 election and I naturally expect to account for my stewardship."

"I am no quitter, and if the Conservative convention decided to elect another leader in my place I shall be glad to step down and get in behind my successor. As a member of the rank and file I shall continue to Victoria's grass hockey team won the British Columbia championship on Saturday afternoon when it defeated Vancouver by 5-1 at the Jubilee Grounds. The local club takes possession of the O. B. Allen Cup. The first exchanges were fairly even until Bredin put in a shot which went into the net, but was disallowed by Umpire Fletcher as being hit outside the striking circle. Soon afterwards, however, Stanier netted for the home team. This was quickly followed by a reply from Wainwright, outside right. Towards the end of the game the visitors indulged in a good deal of wild slopping, and were getting a bit demoralized.

A captain invited a private to inspect a memorial stone to the men of his company who fell in the war. After reading the inscription, the soldier said: "Well, sir, if I'd known your name weren't amongst 'em, I'd 'a' given a penny to the thing!"—Tit-Bits.

SPOKE OF PROGRESS OF EDUCATION

H. Charlesworth Addressed Audience in Duncan

(Times Correspondence.)
Duncan—H. Charlesworth, secretary of the British Columbia Teachers' Federation, gave an interesting address in the Duncan High School on "Educational Progress and Prospects in British Columbia."

The speaker outlined the aims of the federation and dwelt upon the encouragement given to teachers to take a sympathetic interest in the affairs of the community and the preparation of their pupils for true citizenship.

Cities and Country.
At present cities would not employ teachers who had not had two or three years' experience in rural schools. Rural school teaching was the most difficult work. The speaker wondered how long the rural schools would stand this state of affairs.

High Schools.
The greatest fault of the present school system lay in the High Schools the speaker said.

It was all very well for the pupil who wished to take up professional life, but a great many pupils went into this course for which they were not fitted. He would broaden the course and find suitable work for every type of pupil who wanted to go through high school. Technical, vocational, agricultural and industrial courses should be optional, the speaker advocated.

A Change.
"In the past," he said, "we made the pupils fit the schools. The future will make the schools fit the pupils." Pupils in the wrong groove were dull and uninterested, and have a bad influence on their fellows.

"Our school age limit is fifteen years. Many pupils pass the entrance at fourteen. It is much better that they should go to school for a year than that they should hang around the streets looking for a job, or, just as bad, take some kind of a job that leads to a blind alley. They are able to get money to go to picture shows. These children take upon themselves the ways of men. They are out of control, and the great cause of delinquency. It is much better to hold them in school until fifteen or sixteen years of age, and give them something worth while to do."

"No community can afford to handicap its boys and girls."

Text Book Exchange.
The teaching of history, the formation of an international committee that would encourage text books that would give the pupil a love of his own country first and a just estimate of other countries, and the organization of a world-wide league of teachers to inculcate peace would make perhaps a greater contribution to the peace of the world than the League of Nations.

A vote of thanks was proposed by Dr. Black and Mrs. G. G. Henderson in eulogistic speeches.

Mayor E. F. Miller was chairman.

SYNOD REPORTS WILL BE GIVEN AT METCHOSIN CHURCH

(Times Correspondence.)
Metchosin—The parish meeting at St. Mary's Church at which the reports of the delegates from Metchosin to the synod conference has been postponed until the first Sunday in April, after evening service. The vicar did not consider the attendance last week sufficiently representative of the district to warrant the presentation of the reports, which contain much interesting matter. It is also the intention of the vicar to invite Mr. Wooleston, who was for many years treasurer of the Diocese and is now a member of the Synod advisory board and the finance committee to attend the meeting and give a short address.

Dressmaking Classes.

The last of the dressmaking classes held by the Langford Women's Institute, took place last Wednesday, when the work accomplished by the pupils under the instruction of Miss Curry was displayed and examined by Miss Curry. Among other interesting articles were a Jersey suit, an embroidered frock and coat and skirt. A special feature was the making over of a worn suit into a smart little dress. Miss Curry warmly praised the class for the interest taken in the work and expressed herself as being very pleased with the results, while the pupils in their turn gave a very hearty vote of thanks to Miss Curry for her patience and excellent tuition throughout the classes.

A dainty tea was served by members of the Institute.

W. C. T. U. EVENT HELD IN NANAIMO

(Times Correspondence.)

Nanaimo—The local branch of the Women's Christian Temperance Union celebrated Francis Willard Day in the Wallace Street Methodist Church schoolroom. There was a fair attendance and the evening's excellent programme was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. Mrs. Irvine, the president, occupied the chair and was ably assisted by Mrs. Priest, the Provincial Superintendent of Missions.

Mrs. Manson, sr., read a paper giving a few extracts on the beautiful life and work of Francis Willard. Mrs. Thompson, the Vice-President, also read a paper on the purpose and scope of the W. C. T. U. Mrs. Bohl then called for recruits, which brought forward a few members for enrollment.

Mrs. Vipond, convener for refreshments, and her committee looked after that part of the entertainment, which brought a very pleasant evening to a close.

WORK ON SOOKE

ROAD AUTHORIZED Development Association to Meet To-night

(Times Correspondence.)

Sooke Harbor, March 13.—The general monthly meeting of the Sooke Harbor Development Association will take place in the Sooke Hall to-night at 8 o'clock. It is hoped that all members will make an effort to be present sharp on time so that these meetings may commence promptly at 8 o'clock. The Association has already ready this year a membership of 37—thirty-three men and four ladies. The Executive wish it distinctly understood that any ladies in the district will receive a cordial welcome to membership free of any fee as they are anxious to have the ladies help and co-operation in the development work of the district. Their names will be added to the roll upon application to the Secretary at any meeting. Since the beginning of the year the Association has answered a very large number of letters from people in the Prairie Provinces who are interested in Vancouver Island and two families are expected to arrive in the district this month. The urgent need for the operation of gas-cars upon the district line of the C.N.R. as far as Sooke Harbor this Spring is being actively taken up by the Association, also the matter of the repair to the main road to Sooke. Last month the Association dealt with the matter of unemployment and through the representation made to the District of Public Works a letter has been received stating that the sum of $1,000 has been granted "out of the Relief vote for work upon the Sooke Road." Although $1,000 will not go very far, yet the district should feel gratified that this sum has been promised to be spent upon the road between Luxton and Sooke which will give relief to those in need of work as well as greatly assist in putting the main road to Sooke in shape after the winter of 1921. It is hoped that the March meeting of the Sooke Harbor Development Association will be largely attended by the residents of the district and that many new names will be enrolled to membership.

Sooke News.

(Times Correspondence.)

Sooke Harbor, March 11.—On Tuesday Mrs. Jesse Hawkins gave a short talk at the meeting of the Sooke Women's Institute on legislation. She pointed out that in former days women were more occupied with home ties, but now their work extended over a wider sphere and women were following almost every calling in life, callings which formerly were only followed by men. Now that women had the suffrage they should certainly devote more time and attention to the laws of the land. There was a very great deal to be accomplished in the way of bringing laws relating to women and children more up to date. The April meeting of the Institute will consist of a sale of bulbs and plants in aid of its funds. There will also be a stall for the sale of the members' work. The Institute is anxious to foster this so as to enable those members who have needwork to sell may find a market for their work. A small commission of 5 per cent. will be charged and this will go to augment the Institute funds. Tea will also be served during the afternoon and it is hoped that there may be a large attendance at the April meeting and that many new members may be enrolled.

Last Tuesday evening the regular whist drive and dance was held by the Sooke Athletic Association and was as usual a very enjoyable evening to all who participated. Mrs. C. Woodruff won the ladies' prize whilst Mr. McCormack won the gentlemen's honor, Hermann Wilson taking the booby.

The first aid classes are going along splendidly, though they are handicapped at present owing to the bandages not having arrived. Every student must attend at least five classes, so that unless any intending to take advantage of this course join next week they will not be able to avail themselves of the privilege this session, as it is only proposed to hold eight classes. Dr. Richard Felton, M. H. O. for the district is giving the lectures. The Women's Institute is to be congratulated on inaugurating these classes which should prove of much value to those who are availing themselves of this first aid knowledge.

The many friends of Mrs. McElen are glad to see her back in Sooke once more after her long and tedious illness.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morris upon the arrival of a little daughter.

FEWER TROLLING LICENSES ISSUED

(Times Correspondence.)

Nanaimo—The local fishery office was besieged this week by several hundred Japanese fishermen who sought a renewal of their trolling fishing licenses for this year. Last year 495 trolling licenses were issued in this district and this year the Department decided to reduce this number by one-third, hence the rush by those engaged in fishing to be at the office as soon as possible. Many of them who applied this week were refused on the ground that they were not British subjects.

The many friends of Mrs. (Dr.) McPhee, who has been seriously ill for several days, will be pleased to know that she is improved and is getting along as well as can be expected. Dr. McPhee is also confined to the hospital, owing to an attack of influenza.

Mr. Joe Becque, a rancher of the Qualicum District, was in town this week collecting the bounty on a panther he had killed.

SAYWARD NEWS.

(Times Correspondence.)

Sayward, March 8.—The District Supervisor of the S.S.B. is visiting the district. This is the first time since August last. It is reported that he finds the great majority of the S.S.B. settlers making favorable progress.

W. R. Brown, of the Presbyterian Church, held service here on Sunday evening. There was a very large attendance at this service as it was the farewell visit of Mr. Brown, as he is leaving to resume his studies. A very close friendship has been built up between the residents of Sayward and Mr. Brown. At the close of the service J. E. Armishaw, on behalf of the residents, in a few well chosen words, conveyed to Mr. Brown the appreciation of the residents for the services so ably rendered by him, wishing him all success in his studies, and a successful future in the important work he has undertaken.

The weather during the past week has been warmer, and it now looks as if Spring is near.

A very enjoyable birthday party was given on Monday at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Armishaw, in honor of the birthday of Miss Bernice Armishaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Armishaw. There was a jolly gathering of the young folks and a very pleasant afternoon was spent. At 5 o'clock the young people sat down to refreshments. The evening was spent in games and music and the party came to a close at 8 o'clock. Miss Bernice Armishaw was the recipient of many birthday presents from young friends.

The Sayward Women's Institute held the regular meeting on Thursday last. The attendance was not large on account of the bridge over the Salmon and White Rivers not being completed, despite this there was considerable business transacted. The meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Brown.

FROM DUNCAN TO BUFFALO, N.Y.

(Times Correspondence.)

Duncan—Mrs. Black's sister, Mrs. Brent, and her little girl, who visited Dr. and Mrs. Black, of Gibbin's Road, for more than a year, have left for Buffalo, where they will make their home. Bishop Brent, a brother-in-law, who has the guardianship of Mrs. Brent's second son, lives in Buffalo, and also Mrs. Brent's older son, who is attending university there.

Mr. and Mrs. Carbery have removed to the house recently bought near the "Trunk Road" and recently occupied by Mr. and Mrs. H. MacBean, who have removed to Maple Bay to the hotel, which they in partnership with Mr. Cole have just had built.

Miss Ida Lamont, of Cowichan, is the week-end guest of Mrs. Stewart, of Victoria, who was formerly Miss Doris Greig, of Duncan.

DUNCAN TEAM PLAY CLOSE GAME

(Times Correspondence.)

Duncan, March 11.—Great excitement prevailed at the Agricultural Hall, last evening, when the local seniors very nearly won from the champion basketball team of British Columbia and were only beaten finally by one point. The first Presbyterian team of Victoria is a splendid team and the play was fast and snappy all through with excellent checking on both sides. A Dirom was perhaps a little nervous at first, but soon settled down and found the basket with his usual promptness and accuracy. Victoria were leading when Bruce McNichol replaced J. Dirom, and by a splendid shot, tied the score. At half time the score was 10-8 in favor of Duncan. When play was resumed, both teams worked hard, and checking was excellent. The visitors were one point ahead, when just before "Dunc" Duncan was given a penalty, but failed to score, giving the visitors the victory, just as the whistle blew. The home team are just proud of their achievement. For the winners Forbes netted five baskets, White two and three penalties, McKinnon two and Little one penalty. For the local boys A. Dirom scored five baskets, A. Evans and B. McNichol one each, and E. Rutledge one and six penalties.

The girls' game, which was played first, was exceedingly good, between the First Presbyterian Ladies, of Victoria and Duncan senior girls. The visitors came up in charge of their Sunday School teacher, Miss Margaret Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart of Victoria. The visitors, although younger and smaller than their opponents played well and some fine checking was seen. The home team won by a score of 28-18.

E. Evans refereed both games most satisfactorily.

The line-up was:
First Presbyterian Ladies—L. Crawford, Y. McNaughton, J. McQueen, Iris Philbrook and M. Breckinridge.

Duncan Senior Girls—A. Robertson, L. Castley, F. Castley, H. Best and M. Tomlinson.

Mabel Knicker replaced Anne Robertson at half time.

First Presbyterians—McKinnon, Little, White, Forbes and Streeter.
Duncan Seniors—Evans, Doi, French, J. Dirom, A. Dirom, E. Rutledge.

B. McNichol replaced J. Dirom at half time.

DELIGHTFUL PARTY.

(Times Correspondence.)

Duncan, March 11.—In the evening Mrs. Innes Noad most hospitably threw open her beautiful home "Cooloola," to the visiting team, the local team, and their friends and a most enjoyable dance was held. About sixty availed themselves of this opportunity for a good time and a hearty vote of thanks, and three rousing cheers for Mrs. Innes Noad were given before the evening's pleasure ended.

Ask For Whiter Teeth

If you desire them—make this free test

You see glistening teeth on every side today—teeth you envy, maybe.

Millions of people now employ a new teeth-cleaning method. They combat the film that dims the teeth.

That method will be sent to you for the asking—a ten-day test. It will bring to you its delightful effects. Won't you ask?

Film makes teeth dingy

Most people find that well-brushed teeth discolor and decay. The reason lies in film, which old-way brushing does not effectively combat.

Film is that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. It absorbs stains, making the teeth look dingy. It forms the basis of tartar.

It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Very few people who brush teeth daily have escaped those film-caused troubles.

Now ways to combat it

Dental science has for years sought ways to combat that film. It has found two methods and proved them effective. Authorities now advise them, and leading dentists everywhere urge their daily use.

A new-day tooth paste has been created, complying with modern requirements. These two methods are embodied in it. This tooth paste—called Pepsodent—has brought to millions a new conception of clean teeth.

Its delightful effects

Pepsodent attacks that film, wherever it abides. It keeps teeth highly polished, so film less easily adheres.

It also multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise cling and form acids.

It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is Nature's neutralizer for acids which cause decay.

It brings all these effects twice daily, as modern authorities desire. Old teeth-cleaning methods bring just opposite effects.

Learn what a change it brings. Send the coupon for a 10-day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

What you see and feel will quickly show you that this method is essential. Cut out the coupon so you won't forget this test.

Willis Piano Receives Unsolicited Compliment From Godowsky And His Manager

"and it happened this way," said Mr. Godowsky's manager to Mr. Willis:

"AS soon as we arrived in Victoria I came here to select a piano, as I always do, for Mr. Godowsky's use at his hotel. I simply tried over a few pianos on your floor, and after trying a 'Willis' Upright was much impressed by its full, broad tone, so much so that I had the piano sent to Mr. Godowsky's apartment at the Empress. Whilst sitting in Mr. Godowsky's room, listening to his playing, my opinion of this 'Willis' piano was assuredly confirmed, for, under Mr. Godowsky's fingers, there was the same breadth of tone and musical qualities that we would only expect in a small grand. I asked Mr. Godowsky if he liked the piano, to which he replied 'I do very much.'"

The "Willis" Piano is Canadian made—made by craftsmen who love their work. From a small beginning the reputation of the "Willis" Piano is becoming world-wide, until to-day the demand is almost exceeding the supply.

Our system of convenient payments permits of those of limited means to own a "Willis" piano or player. $25 cash on a piano and $50 cash on a player, with the balance easily arranged, ARE easy terms.

LITERARY NOTES.

Mr. Arthur Stringer, late of Chatham, Ontario, has bought a home at Mountain Lakes in New Jersey. The New York Evening World features his removal to a New York suburb as one who has lived for ten years on the Canadian prairie. In a long interview, genial Arthur, who is tormed by the New York paper "the novelist of the great Canadian Northwest," has much to say about the life of women in the prairie country. Here is a characteristic utterance: "The howl of a coyote across a green rind of twilight can sound pretty lonesome. But it's not half as lonesome as the sound of an orchestra to a hall-roomer when the other people are so busy dancing. And the pour of Broadway through a hall-room window can be quite as desolate as the evening song of katydids across a western coulee." Mr. Stringer's new novel is entitled "The Prairie Child." He is following up his earlier successes "The Prairie Wife" and "The Prairie Mother."

Amazing blunders regarding Canadian geography are sometimes to be found in quite well-informed English journals. "The Dickensian," for example, hurts the sensibilities of all Canadians by reporting "the formation of a branch of the Dickens Fellowship at Vancouver, U.S.A." It notes also that F. C. Wade, K. C., was elected honorary president. If the editor of "The Dickensian" had thought a moment, surely he would have realized that K. C. and U. S. A. are not good travelling companions.

Speaking of Dickens, I have been greatly cheered to read that according to a census of the fiction read by the freshmen of Radcliffe College, Cambridge, Mass., the novels "David Copperfield" and "A Tale of Two Cities" were at the top of the list, both tying for first place. Thackeray, Scott and Thomas Hardy tied for second place.

Stanley High, author of a new Macmillan book, "China's Place in the Sun," spent two years on his Chinese trip, and scattered through the volume are lively accounts of many of his interesting personal experiences there. He treats of Chinese affairs from various angles, and his summary of the present situation in regard to Christianity in China is illuminating. He says there are 8,000 Protestant missionaries in China, over 191,000 Chinese boys and girls attending mission schools, and 2,250,000 Chinese patients being treated annually in mission hospitals. The total Chinese membership in Protestant Christian churches in China is over 400,000 while the Catholic membership amounts to more than 1,354,000. Mr. High quotes high Chinese authority for his statement that "the greatest single influence in the development of China is and has been the missionary educational influence."

The following short poem has been written recently by Dr. T. A. Patrick of Yorkton. It is a vigorous little lyric and ought to be specially interesting to western Canadians.

Saskatchewan.
Fair land and free, Saskatchewan,
Thine every day shall brighter dawn;

Thy northern park and southern plain,
Give mighty scope for brawn and brain,
O'er park and plain, thy sunshine bright;
Thy northern sky aflame at night;
Whoever once breathes thine ozone
Shall ever hail thee as his own,
Though for his native land he yearn,
And yearning, leave thee, he'll return,
Return where life is lived with zest,
Our wide Canadian Middle West,
Bid Faith prevail and Doubt begone,
The future's thine, Saskatchewan.

PROVES FINE VEHICLE FOR NORMA TALMADGE

Emotional Feature at Royal in
"The Sign on the Door"

The talent for emotional and dramatic acting which has made Norma Talmadge one of the foremost screen stars of the age was in evidence again to-day, when her latest vehicle, "The Sign on the Door," was shown at the Royal Victoria Theatre. Without doubt this production is the most interesting and brilliant of any yet seen in which Miss Talmadge has the leading role. The photography is excellent and the direction of Herbert Brenon is the skilled work of a craftsman.

The acting of Norma is superb. She is seen in the role of Ann Henneville, a pretty stenographer who through no fault of her own, is compromised by her employer's son Frank Devereaux, in a questionable cafe. She marries "Lafe" Regan, man of wealth and character. Later Devereaux comes back into her life. Regan shoots Devereaux with the fellow's own pistol. He does not know that his wife has witnessed the tragedy. An intensely dramatic situation arises when she is moved by her love for her husband to tell the authorities that she killed Devereaux. The plot has a logical and unexpectedly happy ending.

"The Sign on the Door" was adapted for the screen by Mary Murillo and Herbert Brenon from the stage play of the same name by Channing Pollock. It is a First National attraction.

"The Sign on the Door" is splendid entertainment from beginning to end.

If the movement to print restaurant menus in plain English gains too many adherents it will take the glamor out of commercial eating.

"FOOL'S PARADISE" AT THE DOMINION

Photographers Made Special Feature of Mountain Scenery

Climbing the highest mountain peak in the United States to gain merely a flash in a dramatic motion picture is the latest adventurous exploit of the photoplay makers. The peak was Mt. Whitney, Cal.; the climber, Alvin Wyckoff, cameraman; the picture, "Fool's Paradise," Cecil B. De Mille's latest Paramount production, which will be the feature at the Dominion Theatre all this week.

It took days of travel by pack train to reach the towering mountain, and four days for the round trip through the snow to the peak's top, 14,501 feet above sea level.

Do you remember the old fairy tale of the "Magic Carpet" and how it wafted lovers here and there over the world? That's the answer—and to gain the effect of the carpet crossing mountains the trip to Mt. Whitney was devised. Mildred Harris and Kamuela Searles are the passengers on the "Magic Carpet." The incident is part of a wonderful stage pageant called "The Ice Queen," in which effects rivaling in beauty his glass set in "Forbidden Fruit," were attained.

This is only one of the novelties in this picture. A long sequence shows scenes in an oil town with actual gushers; far-away Siam and the wonders of Angkor Wat and Wat Chang, two of the most beautiful temples of the Orient.

"Fool's Paradise" is by Beulah Marie Dix and Sada Cowan, and was suggested by Leonard Merrick's "The Laurels and the Lady." The leading roles are portrayed by Dorothy Dalton, Mildred Harris, Conrad Nagel, Theodore Kosloff, John Davidson and Julia Faye.

Abe Budin, who plays an important role with real ability in Goldwyn's forthcoming "Hungry Hearts," has never been on the screen before. He was sweeping the street in front of the Los Angeles apartment house which he owns when Director E. Mason Hopper saw him and decided he was the man for the part. Budin displays absolute naturalness in his acting.

BEBE DANIELS IS A HARD WORKER

"Nancy From Nowhere" Is Now at Capitol

"Oh, if I could only be a movie star!"

How many girls, all over the country, daily say this either openly or in their hearts?

And yet how little most of these girls understand how exacting is the work of the stars, and how many are the demands upon their time and strength. This is a fact which cannot be too often stated, because of the heartburnings and disappointments which might be prevented by its repetition.

Consider a fairly typical week in the life of Bebe Daniels, Realart star of "Nancy From Nowhere," which is now at the Capitol Theatre.

Labor Day came during the production, and was, for a girl with a "regular" job, a holiday. But on that day Miss Daniels appeared in a demonstration which was a tribute to an important film executive.

Tuesday evening after a long day at the studio, she appeared in a lodge benefit in Los Angeles. Wednesday evening she worked late to get a sunset effect for the picture, and hurried out of make-up and into evening clothes to appear and auction dolls at a benefit for the crippled children of Los Angeles. Thursday evening, she must needs attend the premiere of a major film production, a "courtesy duty" of the important stars.

Friday evening, she finished work in the studio at 6:30, and hurried home to have dinner and meet an interviewer at eight. She worked most of Saturday, but the evening—can you imagine!—she had all to herself, with nothing to do until Monday—except to look over the first draft of her new production, and plan and make sketches of her costumes!

"Nancy From Nowhere" is by Grace Drew and Kathrene Pinkerton. Chester Franklin directed, and Elmer Harris supervised production. George Folsey photographed. The supporting cast includes Edward Sutherland, Myrtle Stedman, Edward Martindel, Vera Lewis and James Gordon.

Vitagraph will soon release a special production treating of Irish life, which David Smith, one of Vitagraph's chief directors, is now completing in California. It is believed that nearly everyone will be interested, at this particular period, in seeing a motion picture of the "troubled times" of the Emerald Isle. The production is "My Wild Irish Rose," adapted from "The Shaugraun," the famous stage success of Dion Boucicault, and Chauncey Olcott's song, "My Wild Irish Rose," and it will take important rank among the Vitagraph specials for 1922.

Fannie Hurst, whom recently created a stir in film circles by denouncing a photoplay based on one of her short stories, has finally found an adaptation of one of her works that gives her great delight. The picture is "The Good Provider," a Cosmopolitan production recently completed under the direction of Frank Borzage.

RUDYARD KIPLING STORY IN PICTURES

"Without Benefit of Clergy" Is To Be Presented at Variety

"The mountain would not come to Mahomet"—and India could not be moved to Hollywood so they saved a long journey to the Orient by setting up, under the shadow of the Southern California mountains, the streets, dwellings and bazaars of Lahore that were to be used in the theatricalization of Rudyard Kipling's Pathe production, "Without Benefit of Clergy," starting at the Variety Theatre to-day. Robert Brunton produced the picture for Pathe and James Young directed it.

So accurately were the life and environment of India reproduced that the screen version of Mr. Kipling's story unfolds what amounts to a travelogue of India, in addition to a tensely dramatic presentation of the story which was prepared for the screen by the noted author himself.

If Burton Holmes had turned his camera on the streets of Lahore he could not have secured a more accurate photographic record of this ancient city of Northern India. From the shop of the lowliest merchant to the fashionable English Country Club, not the slightest detail of construction or equipment was neglected. The picture faithfully displays the strongest contrasts of the development of India by the British with the century-old customs of the natives.

In the bazaar street, beneath the light of modern municipal gas lamps is seen the native charpoy-maker carving bed-logs with a chisel held between his toes and turning the wood with the type of bow-string that has been used for hundreds of years. A few miles away from the city, British engineers are erecting an immense railway bridge with steel girders hoisted by steam machinery while hundreds of coolies carry away the dirt in baskets on their heads.

While an up-to-date steam locomotive is transporting heavy steel beams to the bridge-head, an antiquated wooden wheel, belted with earthen cups and kept in motion by a bullock, lifts water from the well at the native dwelling.

Whether he be potentate or coolie, the native of India gives evidence of his caste and parcel of residence by the winding of his turban. In the filming of Mr. Kipling's story such careful attention was given to the arrangement of the head-dress worn by the native that more than a score of types are readily discernible through the winding of their turbans. One who knows his Lahore can easily distinguish upon viewing "Without Benefit of Clergy," the Bengali or Sikh from the Afghan or Punjabi. At the same time the turban effect by the Madrassi, Rajput or hill men, are not shown because these types do not enter into the action of the story.

In the street scenes of the production tourists are seen riding in Victorias and phaetons while the native still clings to his rude ox-cart with its clumsy wooden wheels. In striking contrast to the modern sign of the apothecary shop is the cast of Ganesh, the "God of the Threshold," which appears over the door of the Hindu dwelling.

World travelers who have viewed the settings erected for the production have declared them marvelously accurate, and Hindus and Mohans medans from the Oriental quarter of Los Angeles who worked as natives in the picture sent many photographs of the sets to the friends in India as evidence of the faithfulness with which the environment of Lahore has been reproduced.

GREAT PRISON SCENE IN "BOOMERANG BILL"

Lionel Barrymore Plays Big Roll at Columbia

A prison cell setting in "Boomerang Bill," a Paramount picture featuring Lionel Barrymore, which comes to the Columbia Theatre, commencing to-day, had to be rebuilt and strengthened before Mr. Barrymore could do what he considered justice to one of the most dramatic moments in the picture.

"Boomerang Bill" (Mr. Barrymore) goes to prison for bank robbery, having committed the crime to get money to save the life of the invalid mother of the girl he loves. Annie, the girl, swears to him, as he enters the portals of the prison, that she will await the expiration of his sentence and marry him.

Later Bill receives a letter saying she is to be married and that this is the last she can write to him. Something in Bill's mind seems to snap. Mr. Barrymore here rises to magnificent heights of artistry. He flings the letter on the floor, stamps on it, crushes the letter, tears his prison bed from its fastenings on the wall and then savagely attacks the cell door.

When Mr. Barrymore attempted this action the first time he smashed through the side of the setting. Thereupon the carpenters were put to work barricading the setting so that it could withstand the weight of the actor.

"Boomerang Bill" is based on the story of the same name by Jack Boyle and was directed by Tom Terris.

WAS FORMERLY WITH SIR HENRY IRVING

Edith Wynne Matthison Coming to Vancouver

Vancouver, March 13.—Charles Rann Kennedy, dramatist, and his wife, Edith Wynne Matthison, former leading woman to Sir Henry Irving, are to visit Vancouver this week. They are now on their way from Los Angeles to visit Mrs. Kennedy's two brothers, Dr. C. H. Matthison, dentist, and A. A. Matthison of the Quigley Knitting Mills.

While here the celebrated couple will be entertained by the Shakespeare Society, and also by several other organizations of a literary character.

The Kennedys are both of English birth, but have made their home in New York for many years. Charles Rann Kennedy is author of "The Servant in the House," "The Terrible Meek," and other notable plays also from his pen.

Edith Wynne Matthison has played principal parts in some of her husband's plays, played Rosalind and Portia in Sir Henry Irving's company, has figured in several modern presentations of the famous Greek plays such as Elektra and Troades. She was in the original cast of Maeterlinck's "The Bluebird," and recently toured the continent playing the part of "Light" in Maeterlinck's "The Betrothal." She has also appeared in moving pictures with Sir Herbert Beerbohm Tree as Queen Katherine in "Henry VIII." One of her most notable achievements was in the poetic drama, "The Piper."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy have world wide reputations as exponents of the highest ideals of the dramatic profession. Their visit to Vancouver is recognized in literary and artistic circles as a notable event, and every effort is to be made by societies having such interests to derive the maximum of inspiration from association with these great representatives of the international drama.

FEATURE AT DOMINION

Dorothy Dalton in the Cecil B. DeMille Production "Scotland Saved by a Thistle" A Paramount Picture

SCOTLAND SAVED BY A THISTLE.

One of the military rules of the early Danes was that it was cowardly to attack an enemy during the night, and because of this the Scots did not consider it necessary to keep a watch during their encounters with the invading army from Denmark.

On one occasion, however, the Danes deviated from their rule and determined to launch an onslaught against one of the Scottish strongholds. On they crept, barefooted, noiseless, unobserved—until one of them set his foot upon a thistle and cried out with pain. The alarm was given, the Scots fell upon the invaders, and defeated them with terrific slaughter.

From that time onwards, the thistle was the Scottish emblem, the motto being, "No one wounds me with impunity."

DON'T NEGLECT A COLD IN THE HEAD

It May Lead to Serious Illness—May Be First Stage of 'Flu'

Never neglect a cold in the head. It is a trouble so common that we are apt to treat it as of little consequence. But it is only a step from a cold to Grippe and the possibility of acute trouble in the throat—pleurisy—pneumonia is always there if it is neglected.

This year there is a special danger as 'flu is about and the first symptoms of this disease are similar to cold in the head. So don't, under any circumstances, neglect a cold.

In its early stages a cold yields quickly to proper treatment. Grip Fix, a combination of the drugs which relieve the system in such cases, gives remarkable results. It relieves a cold in a night and even Grippe yields to it in 48 hours.

There is nothing in Grip Fix but that would be approved by your family physician, and the ingredients are stated on each box. It comes in capsule form and is a safe preparation for use in the home. Its action keeps the system open to throw off the systemic poisons created by the cold, reduces the feverish conditions and allays the pains in the head and muscles.

Grip Fix is for sale by all druggists at 35 cents per box or three boxes for $1.00. Be sure that you get the genuine Grip Fix as there is no substitute which deals so promptly and effectively with colds, grippe and kindred troubles. Vancouver Drug Co., Ltd. (Advt.)

AMALGAMATION IS REASON FOR CLUB

Amalgamated Veterans' Association Opens New Home

Lieutenant-Governor Officially; Many Present

Amalgamation for all ex-service bodies in Canada was the keynote of the addresses given at the opening of the splendid new quarters of the Amalgamated Veterans' Association at 1406 Douglas Street Saturday afternoon, the ceremony in connection with which was performed by His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Walter C. Nichol.

H. Despard Twigg presided at the function, at which there was a very large attendance of prominent citizens. The new quarters are very bright and attractive, and it was explained that all the work in connection with the making of the new home for the organization, which now has a membership of 800, was done by returned men.

A splendid orchestra was in attendance, which furnished an excellent programme for both the afternoon and evening events. At the opening ceremony Mrs. Robert Baird favored with a number of solos, which were greatly enjoyed.

Re-establishment.
"As a business man, I have always been keenly interested in the men who returned from the front," said the Lieutenant-Governor, in declaring the club opened. "Considering the responsibilities we have had to face, we have not done so badly for them in this far-flung corner of the world."

"The primary need was employment for the returned men, and it was a great problem to have absorbed the number of men we did. If we had more industries of a character that would develop the natural resources of the country we would be able to give more men employment. Again, we must remember that a lot of the men who received their discharge here belonged to other parts," said His Honor.

The speaker complimented the members of the association on the splendid spirit they were showing in the public welfare. "I hope that all the wishes of the club will come true and out of it will come a union of returned men, those who should be the backbone of our Canadian civilization, bringing out all the power and the nerve force of those men who following their wonderful training should be the flower of our country," concluded His Honor.

"This meeting marks a milestone in the affairs of ex-service men. Some people may wonder at the necessity of creating another ex-service club," said H. Despard Twigg, who went on to review the circumstances surrounding the formation of various organizations and the reason for the Amalgamated Veterans' Association, which, he said, it was hoped would prove the nucleus for a powerful amalgamation movement here.

An Opportunity Missed.
When the war ceased there were a number of ex-service organizations to take care of service men of the older war. Perhaps the oldest of these was the Army and Navy Veterans. All of them had done excellent service. "They had an opportunity which they never seized and will not have again," said the speaker, who went on to explain how the G. V. A., the G. A. U. V., the Veterans of France and other associations developed, all of them having done good service for returned men.

"Out of the experiences of all these associations there grew up a strong feeling for amalgamation, which is necessary if the returned men are to do anything for themselves or their country. The entire purpose of the association was to bring about a result of negotiations a provisional amalgamation was concluded, but some have fallen by the wayside and who claimed that this was due, not to the feeling of the rank and file of the men, but to the 'higher-ups' in the organizations who did not want to see amalgamation take place. Amalgamation will come, however," said Mr. Twigg.

"If ex-service men of Canada want something done for them they must do something in return. Because a man did his duty in France it is no assurance that he should get everything he asks for. The Club's reputation is like a man's. If the Club carries on in the best interests of the ex-service men, demanding where it has a right to and asking where it should ask, well and good, but if you ask for something and are not entitled to you will lose the sympathy of the public," said Mr. Twigg, who went on to explain that there should be no politics in an association of the kind.

A Beacon Light.
"I hope this Club will be a beacon light across Canada for the formation of an amalgamated body," continued Mr. Twigg, who went on to explain the formation of the Canadian Legion which was out for amalgamation, and which he hoped the local association would soon be affiliated with.

"Out of all this turmoil of various clubs and their differences let us hope for something good. Let us hope that the disputes will be straightened out, and that all ex-service men will be brought into a 'want union,'" concluded the speaker.

Refreshments were then served by the ladies, and everyone present was made to feel at home in the comfortable new club rooms. Numerous tables had been attractively set out.

Concert.

In the evening a concert was given and the housewarming ended with a dance. Those who took part in the programme were: Mrs. F. B. Edwards, Mrs. A. J. Gibson, Miss Barton, Mrs. Woolaston, Mr. and Mrs. Thornborrow, Miss G. Thorpe, Miss Cameron, R. J. Webb, T. J. O'Brien, McCloy, Thomas Kelway, J. D. O'Neill, Ernest Impett, Marshall G. Potter and G. Ingledew. Fidler's orchestra furnished the dance music.

The club rooms are roomy and bright. The pool and billiard tables with chairs and tables, were donated by the Knights of Columbus Club. "J" Unit, I. O. D. E., furnished the reading and writing room and many useful gifts were received from members and friends of the association. The auditorium is 17 by 26 feet and will accommodate about 250 members.

Dunlop Double-Life, High-Mileage Cord and Fabric Tires Will Save You More Money Than Ever

Compared to a few years ago tire users are getting easily double—and even more than double—the mileage in the tires of to-day.

Ten, twelve and fifteen thousand miles are just average mileages to-day. And the records on the road show that Dunlop Cord Tires and Dunlop Fabric Tires are even exceeding these mileages.

With Dunlop big mileage you have rock-bottom prices and paramount tire quality—tire quality that is accepted as standard to-day, and which other makers are vainly striving to duplicate.

When you can get a tire with prestige back of it like DUNLOP, and with practically an unlimited guarantee, why chance your life on a second-rate tire at any price?

In Dunlop Cord Tires you have "Traction" and "Ribbed" to choose from.

In Dunlop Fabric Tires you have "Traction," "Ribbed," "Special," "Clipper," "Plain."
